

Washington Approves Stadium; Work Waits Allocation of Money

Mayor Notified Thursday That City's Stadium Project Has Been Officially Approved by WPA Administration.

TO USE CONCRETE

Stadium Will be Built Largely of Concrete, to Seat Large Audiences.

Mayor C. J. Helseman was notified Thursday that the stadium project had been officially approved by the WPA at Washington. The stadium is to be erected on the former Fair Grounds, which were recently purchased by the education board as a site for the stadium.

The mayor on Wednesday sent a telegram to Lester Herzog, State WPA Administrator, asking if the project had been approved as yet. It had been approved by the state several weeks ago and forwarded to Washington for approval.

The mayor was informed that the project now has the official approval of Washington. The approval is contained in the presidential letter No. 7310, while the project number is OP-453-21-213.

County Manager Arthur Hallinan of the WPA stated that upon receipt of allocation of funds to be used for the construction of the stadium that the work would start as quickly as possible.

The stadium when completed will be used for public sports and games. For years the Kingston high school football and baseball teams have been without an enclosed field, and with the stadium built and in operation will have an ideal place in which to stage the high school games. The stadium will also be used for other football and baseball games as well as track events as a running track is to be constructed as well as the baseball and football fields.

The stadium which will be built largely of concrete will afford ample seating capacity for those who attend the games.

With this public stadium constructed Kingston will have an ideal place in which to stage all sorts of athletic events. The stadium will be under the control of a committee composed of members of the education board and the common council.

GARNER ASKED FOR 15 CENTS CHANGE, GOT IT

St. Louis, Nov. 12 (AP)—Vice President John N. Garner made a bee line for a barber shop when he arrived today from San Antonio, Tex., en route to Washington. As he left the shop he handed the negro shine boy a quarter.

"Thank you, sub," smiled the boy.

"That's a quarter," reminded Garner.

"Yes, sub, I know it's a quarter," smiled the boy.

"Well, I want some change," Garner demanded.

He got back 15 cents.

The Vice President said he was feeling fit for the special session starting Monday and told reporters to feel his arm muscles as proof.

GREATEST PRECAUTIONS TO SAFEGUARD KING

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—British authorities today studied the possibility of adopting more rigid precautions to safeguard King George VI during his public appearances.

It was pointed out that the Armistice Day incident at the Whitehall Cenotaph yesterday showed the ease with which an attacker might break through guard lines and approach the king.

It appeared certain that 43-year-old Stanley Storey, who shouted "All this is hypocrisy" yesterday during the two minutes of silence for the war dead, had not planned an attack on the king.

Officials said Storey was suffering from delusions and would not be prosecuted.

Killed by Explosion

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 12 (AP)—Injuries suffered by Roger S. Lumbard, 17-year-old New Bedford textile school student in an explosion during a gunpowder-making experiment at the school Wednesday, today caused his death at St. Luke's Hospital. School officials said the experiment was unauthorized. Four blood transfusions were given the youth in an effort to save his life.

Please Turn Left, Don't Argue, Asks Officer at Hotel

If the traffic officer at the corner of Albany and Clinton avenue at the traffic light waves you down through Pearl street when you want to turn into Clinton avenue, don't argue with him. It simply means you don't know your traffic regulations.

At frequent intervals during the day there is an officer stationed at the corner and numerous people with the intention of turning right up Clinton avenue find themselves being shunted up Pearl street and many have inquired as to why they cannot go where they want to. The answer is simply that there are two distinct traffic lanes painted out on the pavement. One lane to the right is indicated by a sign on the pavement almost directly in front of the Governor Clinton Hotel entrance which reads "right turn" and directly opposite in the outside lane is the sign "through traffic" and these signs mean just that. Anyone who wants to make the right turn into Clinton avenue at the light is expected to keep to the right and stay in the indicated lane. Those who desire to continue straight ahead must keep to the inside lane. This regulation has been made in order that traffic going up Clinton avenue will not be slowed down by traffic from the left hand lane attempting to "cut-in" at the corner where Clinton avenue is narrow and frequently obstructed by parked cars on Clinton avenue at the light is expected to keep to the right and stay in the indicated lane.

"You would be surprised at the people who apparently don't know what those traffic lanes mean," said Officer Burger the other day when a county official was puzzled as to why he could not turn left.

"People don't read the sign by the hotel, but it is plain enough," said the officer. "Anyone who knows anything about traffic regulation should know that the two lanes have been placed there for some purpose and they ought to look for the reason, it's there on the pavement to be read," said the officer as he turned his attention again to traffic which was beginning to move.

Nation's News in Brief

San Francisco, Nov. 12 (AP)—Sometime, Peaches Browning said today, "I hope to marry again."

It would be a terrible thing," the 26-year-old divorcee said, "to go through life and never be married at all."

Here to rest after her Reno divorce from Bernard J. Hynes, Peaches spent last evening at a cabaret with Nathan Borin, wealthy Chicagoan.

She explained she had to divorce Hynes, Denver theatre man, because "his work kept him away a lot, and I was lonely."

Democracy Basis For Government, Vargas Says Today

Rio De Janeiro, Nov. 12 (AP)—Foreign diplomats watched the unfolding of Brazil's new authoritarian program today with the assurance of Getulio Vargas, foreign minister that it was "neither Fascist nor Communist" but had "Democracy as the basis."

President Vargas, who assumed wide dictatorial power by replacing Brazil's often suspended "Liberal" constitution with an authoritarian document in a bloodless coup on Wednesday, was seeking to fill out his cabinet, which moved over into the new regime almost intact.

Minister of Agriculture Odilon Braga, however, had resigned and portfolio was offered to Fernando Costa, president of the National Coffee Department.

The situation in the capital was calm as though no change had taken place—and this tranquility seemed to extend through the nation.

Foreign Minister Mario de Pimentel Brandao, elaborating upon previous government assurances that the dictatorial powers were necessitated by Brazilian unrest, told Rio De Janeiro's diplomatic corps yesterday that "harsh promulgated the new constitution in such a way as not to injure Democracy or the representative system, the administration was Democracy as the basis for the new Democracy."

(The new constitution provided for a two-house legislature but reserved to the president broad power to initiate and dissolve legislation. It was placed in effect immediately, to be passed upon in a plebiscite to be held at the discretion of the chief executive.)

It was reliably learned that the fiery torch they flung to our outstretched hands? Are we keeping the faith?

Nineteen years ago today at 5 a. m. the commander-in-chiefs of the Allied Forces and the German Imperial Government met and agreed to an armistice, agreed that the activities of the World War would cease at 11 a. m. You men remember that day, I do, while stationed in Toul, France, at the headquarters of the Second American Army. The members of that commemorative day each year. ## CORONER'S JURY PROBES "WHITE FLAME" CASE

Los Angeles, Nov. 12 (AP)—A coroner's jury today investigated the "White Flame" slaying of Paul Wright, Glendale airport manager, of his wife and John B. Kimmel, his close friend, at the Wright home Tuesday.

In his statement to police Wright was quoted as saying that when he saw his wife and Kimmel embracing there was a sheet of white flame before my eyes.

Defense Lawyer Jerry Geisler said the fact his client had undergone a sterilization operation to save his wife the danger of another childbirth would form the basis of his defense.

Commenting on Wright's statement County Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner said "it seems to me it would have been impossible for a person firing blindly to place eight out of nine bullets with such deadly accuracy."

Verdict Is Suicide.

Stagsden, England, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Bedfordshire coroner decided today that Lucy Eubank Ward, Pittsburgh student who was found dead in an automobile on a country lane November 4, committed suicide while her mind was unbalanced. The coroner suggested her mental condition might have been induced through over-interest in psychology which she had studied at Oxford.

Fire in Capitol Closes

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Fire broke out today in a mop closet near the top of a stairway in the capitol. The blaze, apparently caused by spontaneous combustion, was extinguished quickly by employees before extensive damage occurred. The flames could be seen in the rotunda.

Country Faces Crisis Declares Hoover In Address at Syracuse

Solution Lies in "Adoption of Some Constructive Program . . . Transcending Personal Politics."

IMPORTANT STEP

Declares G.O.P. Control of Assembly and Convention Important Step.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today that "this country is in a great crisis" and declared that "the solution has got to come through the adoption of some constructive program vastly transcending any personal politics."

Here to attend the dedication of a new $500,000 Syracuse University School of Citizenship building, the former President conferred briefly with upstate party leaders but hastened to say that he was "not engaged in any kind of politics."

He called Republican control of the 1938 Assembly and constitutional convention won in the last election "a very important step."

Mr. Hoover said he was "not involved" when asked whether his brief conference with upstate leaders would touch on the choice of a national committeeman to succeed Charles D. Hilles. He discussed the proposed Republican program committee and said that "the main thing we are trying to accomplish is to get forward motion into the party—get started toward a declaration of what the party stands for."

"I was in hopes," he added, "that the committee would comprise the best talent we possess."

He suggested specifically that it be made up of former governors and former candidates for governor, "public men and women embracing the professions, agriculture and labor," presidents of universities, leading sociologists and lawyers and representatives of the younger Republican party groups.

"In a large sense," he said, "this committee ought to bring new faces and new men into the party councils."

He lauded Syracuse University for its plan of training students for public affairs through the School of Citizenship.

MINE WORKERS CRY "INSULT" TO D. A. R.

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—The United Mine Workers, holding aloft the banner of their own patriotism, cried "insult" today at the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Thus they threatened to develop anew a controversy over a D. A. R. denial of a U. M. W. request for permission to hold its 1937 convention in Constitution Hall here.

The request was made—and denied—many weeks ago.

The hall manager, Fred E. Hand, said "prior commitments" had forced him to refuse.

In his leading article today the United Mine Workers Journal scoffed at this explanation as "merely a subterfuge to hide the real reason," and said the refusal must be considered an "insult" to labor.

The article asserted that the D. A. R. is "an aristocratic outfit" and "possibly some of its members felt deeply humiliated by the fact that a labor organization had occupied their hall two years ago."

The article referred to the D. A. R. as an "exclusive, high-hat organization" with some members "whose hands are never soiled with plebeian dishwater," and added:

"To all such, if any there are, we should like to say: Members of organized labor are just as patriotic Americans as the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution."

FAVORS PERIODIC CENSUS OF STATE UNEMPLOYED

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—State Senator Thomas C. Desmond said today he would introduce a bill in the next legislative session calling for a periodic New York State unemployment census.

In a statement, the Senator asked for cooperation in the forthcoming federal postcard census which he said contained several weaknesses.

He said the federal census does not provide for:

A permanent, up-to-date, continuing record which will show fluctuations in unemployment.

A count of the unemployed who do not return registration cards.

Whampoo River Opens

Shanghai, Nov. 12 (AP)—Japanese naval authorities announced today the Whampoo river was now safe for passenger and freight ships with the retreat of Chinese troops after months of bitter fighting in this city. The President Doumer, of the Messageries Maritimes Line, was the first vessel to enter Shanghai harbor since the Whampoo was declared unsafe last August.

400,000 Chinese Troops Retreating To Main Defenses

Shanghai, Nov. 12 (AP)—China's Shanghai armies, about 400,000 strong, fell back today toward the Chinese "Hindenburg Line" more than 50 miles to the west.

Japanese troops, numbering 200,000, forced Chinese from towns and trenches in the Shanghai area. The Chinese fought only rearward actions as they withdrew toward the chain of trenches and pillboxes, stretching from Chanshu south through Songchow, Wukang and Kading, and protecting Nanking.

Nippon's war planes ranged in to the interior as the troops advanced. One flight bombed the American Church Mission Hospital at Wushu, 80 miles west of Nanking, killing two Chinese staff members. Five Americans escaped injury.

The Japanese government in Tokyo today refused a second invitation to participate in proceedings of the Brussels Conference on the Far Eastern war.

With the fall of Shanghai to Japanese, officials of the Shanghai Municipal Council began a widespread cleanup of anti-Japanese societies operating in the international settlement.

Stirling Fessenden, American secretary-general of the council, said he did not believe Japanese would interfere with the international group's functions and added that there was little friction between the council and the Japanese. Reports from Peking were that thousands of Chinese were harassing Japanese in Hopei province. Flood and famine refugees fled southward in Shanghai province.

Chinese Flags Fly.

As a final gesture of defiance in Japan's conquest of the Shanghai area and in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Sun Yat-Sen, founder of the Chinese republic, Chinese flags fluttered from many buildings in the Shanghai international settlement and French concession. Until today, no Chinese flags had been flown in the international areas.

The Japanese announced that columns advancing from two directions took possession of Nanking, 100 miles west of Shanghai, and captured the village of Anting, inflicting 2,000 casualties.

French fires dotted the Pootung banks across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai in the wake of the Japanese army's unopposed march up the Shanghai peninsula. During one machine-gun duel, a Japanese armored launch was put out of commission. Two sailors jumped overboard and the remainder of the crew either were killed or injured.

A check by French concession police showed 14 persons were killed and 16 wounded in the concession yesterday.

The Nanking police bureau and all nearby houses were destroyed, two-thirds of the force of 8,000 Chinese police on duty in the native city were said to have been killed or wounded.

3 Soviet Envoys Recalled; Rumors Say Two Arrested

Moscow, Nov. 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia's ambassadors to Germany, Turkey and Poland were reported by diplomatic sources today to have been recalled and there were unconfirmed rumors that two of them had been arrested.

The same sources also said that Rudolf Sommer, German consul general at Leningrad, had been recalled by the Berlin government at Moscow's request.

The rumors that Dr. Constantin Yourenoff, the envoy to Berlin, and Mikhail Karski, ambassador to Turkey, had been arrested linked their names with the government's purge of suspected enemies within Soviet ranks. The ambassador to Poland is Yakov Davtian.

In connection with Consul General Sommer's reported return to Berlin it was recalled that more than 400 Germans had been arrested in Russia in recent months in a drive against suspected spies. These included two declared by Soviet authorities to be agents of Germany, the German secret office, who were taken into custody last month.

Forty more executions were reported by the Provincial Press, including 10 persons who were accused of nationalist tendencies, and four charged with spying.

Says This Nation Could Institute Peace Discussion in Indirect Way—Says Ambassador Has "Ticket of Entry."

TOKYO STAND

Refuses to Participate in Brussels Conference—Dr. Koo Expects Assemblage.

(By The Associated Press)

Japan refused again today to participate in the Brussels conference on the Asiatic conflict but let it be known that the United States, acting alone, might indirectly initiate Chinese-Japanese peace discussion.

A Japanese authority in Brussels said the United States still had "a ticket of entry" by which the United States ambassador to Tokyo, Joseph C. Grew, always had access to the Japanese foreign office to talk of the war from a standpoint of the extensive American interests in the Orient.

Japan, as when she refused the original invitation to the Brussels Conference, made it plain again that she believed the Nine-Power Treaty (on which the Brussels peace efforts are based) was unimpaired, under the circumstances, for peace negotiations in the present Chinese-Japanese clash.

U. S. "Ticket"

Brussels, Nov. 12 (AP)—An authoritative Japanese source declared today the United States, acting for itself, still had "a ticket of entry" to discuss Far Eastern peace with Japan, despite Tokyo's refusal of the Brussels conference mediation appeal.

This source said the United States Ambassador to Japan, Joseph C. Grew, could always approach the Japanese foreign office to discuss the Chinese-Japanese conflict from the standpoint of heavy American interests involved.

The statement bore out in a general way the attitude Japan disclosed before opening of the conference here, called under the Nine Power Pact guaranteeing China's territorial integrity.

The Japanese view was that activities of Ambassador Grew and Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson at Nanking, if entirely divorced from the Brussels Conference or the League of Nations, might develop ways and means towards peace.

Based on their replies on press summaries of Japan's reply rejecting a second invitation to the Brussels Conference, the various delegations said they saw no justification for addressing a new conference appeal to Japan.

Direct Negotiations

They interpreted these summaries generally to mean Japan wanted the conference to recommend direct negotiations between China and Japan, a plan which Premier Mussolini's Italian representative here has urged.

If the text of the Japanese reply, which has not yet been officially received here, clearly excludes all possibility of conciliation within the framework of the Nine Power Treaty, conference leaders said they planned to draw up a statement of the situation and probably an agenda for the second stage of the conference.

After a suitable period of adjournment, perhaps a week during which the delegations would receive instructions from home governments, the conference would consider positive methods of dealing with the conflict.

Views expressed in official conference circles were that this should avoid taking the form of "quarantining" or boycotting Japan, but should extend material help to China, particularly in the form of supplies and financial credits.

Refuses Bill

Tokyo, Nov. 12 (AP)—Japan formally refused today a second invitation to participate in the Brussels conference on the Far Eastern war.

The Imperial government's note declared, however, that Japan "would be glad if the powers should contribute to the stabilization of Eastern Asia in a manner consonant with the realities of the situation."

In a note handed to Belgian Ambassador Baron Albert De Basmompierre, the Japanese government repeated the argument that Japanese military operations in China were in self defense and asserted that the conflict "lies outside" the scope of the nine-power treaty.

Japan is a signatory of the nine-power pact which guarantees the territorial integrity of China and under which the Brussels conference was called.

"While the Imperial government notes that the opinion of participating powers is the result of careful consideration," the note said, "the Imperial government regrets that this opinion is insufficient to persuade them to modify the views and policy clearly expressed."

Philip Dryer is busy every day as his home and janitorial school duties permit, making ready his winter firewood supply.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Lambert Bibby of Kingston paid a recent visit to their "Glen Atty" country estate here.

On Saturday evening an unofficial visit to Shokan Lodge, O. O. F., will be made by District Deputy John Hanney and staff of William H. Raymond Lodge, No. 59, of Saugerties. A large attendance of the home members is anticipated, also visiting delegations. Refreshments and a social program will be in order after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Auld left early Sunday for their home in Cuba, N. Y., after their annual early November visit at Maple Dell Farm.

Proprietor Charles H. Weidner of Hickory Hill Farm, had electrical installations made in his new poultry house addition by contractor Donald F. Bishop.

Judge and Mrs. Fred L. Weidner were visitors in Kingston on Monday.

E. C. Davis is working at his fall soil plowing.

Mrs. Francis Bell visited her sister, Mrs. John Eckert, of Brodhead, N. Y., Sunday.

Ray Palen, of Ulster Park, was a West Shokan caller on Tuesday.

A westerly gale swept this locality, all day Tuesday. The frequent wind storms and dry weather of late makes for noisy and under like wood conditions. Hunters report deer very scarce and wild.

Fred Schoonmaker, a native of Shokan, more recently of Campbell Hall, writes an old acquaintance here that he was highly successful in his campaign for re-election to the office of town superintendent of highways, running on the Republican ticket.

Robert Merrill, of Brodhead, who recently completed several months employment as stone mason on the water works job at Lackawack, is again enrolled on the WPA.

There was a good Wednesday turn out of the members at the weekly Ladies' Aid members held in the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richter entertained a Monday visit from relatives from Richmond Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Burgher, of Cuba, N. Y., arrived Monday at Maple Dell Farm and are enjoying their annual deer hunting season visit.

The many friends of Irving Bell, of Brodhead Heights, are indeed pleased that he has recovered from his long illness and enjoy his youthful life as formerly.

Mrs. Francis Whittier was in town over election.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross W. Lynn spent a few days recently at their Traver Hollow estate.

Morton Roe's West Shokan Heights side hill is continuing in operation almost daily.

Herbert Hyde and Sunday visitors George Pratt, of Kingston, and Norman Tremper, of Newburgh, enjoyed a highly successful rabbit hunt.

Judge and Mrs. Henry Winchell were prominent among the town of Olive delegation attending the annual banquet of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association held Wednesday evening at the Hotel Stuyvesant, Kingston.

Justice Fustus North, of Shokan, entertained fellow members of the Olive Town Board at a reunion dinner given at his home on Thursday.

Ernie Constable entertained a visit from Orrie Nichols, of Roxbury, during the latter's election time sojourn.

Captain and Mrs. William Bender, and daughter, Grace, were entertained at dinner Sunday at Maple Dell Farm, following church services.

Judge Lester S. Davis was a recent caller in Kingston.

One of the town highway crews is busy this week putting up snow fences at strategic roadside positions known for winter drifting.

Appellate Group Reserves Ruling In LeFevre Case

Albany, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Decision has been reserved by Appellate Division, Third Department, sitting in Albany, on the appeal of Herbert LeFevre, from an Ulster county supreme court jury verdict of no cause of action, against D. A. Eldredge, Inc.

The suit against D. A. Eldredge, Inc., was brought by LeFevre following an automobile accident which occurred on the Kingston-New Paltz highway about 1 o'clock in the morning of September 16, 1934. At the time, LeFevre and a companion, Cornelius DuBois, were walking along the road on their way home after spending the evening at Louis' Tavern. As the pair attempted to cross the road, they were struck by an automobile owned by D. A. Eldredge, Inc., and driven by Stephen F. Breiteller, 21 years old.

At the time the case was argued before Ulster county supreme court, it was contended by counsel for Breiteller that both LeFevre and DuBois were intoxicated when the accident occurred, and that they stumbled against the car which was moving slowly, trying to avoid hitting them.

Both LeFevre and DuBois, however, maintain they were not intoxicated. Counsel for LeFevre, Elijah T. Russell, of Poughkeepsie, in concluding his arguments before the Appellate Division, said:

"We are mindful of the fact that the Appellate Court is loath to disturb a verdict reached by a jury on the evidence. We are also mindful of the fact that the jury have an advantage in that they see and observe the witnesses and are thus aided in passing upon their credibility."

"However, we also know that the average layman is often moved and carried beyond the bounds of reason by passion or prejudice. He becomes blind to reason and insensible to evidence."

"Verdicts should not be allowed to stand that are not the result of a preponderance of evidence, and reached after a careful evaluation of the evidence."

"In the case at bar, the evidence is not clear and convincing that the plaintiff was intoxicated at the time of the accident. Even to concede that he was intoxicated there is no evidence justifying the defendant in running him down. There is no evidence of contributory negligence due to intoxication or otherwise."

France, with 76, leads the great naval powers of the world in modern submarines. Italy has 61; Japan, 44; Great Britain, 38; Germany, 35 and the United States, 24.

The United States is the only country that can peas in quantity, and this demand did not develop until about 1900.

* Recipe for making canned beans taste like "home-baked"

Add 2 to 3 tablespoons Gulden's Prepared Mustard and a tablespoon of sugar to 1 can beans. Bake 15 minutes. It's as simple as that to insure "home-baked Boston Brown" flavor in canned beans. But remember only Gulden's rich blend achieves this magic! Gulden's is also the perfect seasoning for home-baked beans.

Let This 'Heat Bonus' Coal Cut Your Fuel Bills

Modern BLACK STORK methods have put 700,000 more heat units in each ton of this Hi-Test Anthracite... reduced ash 10 to 26%.

BLACK STORK is the coal for economical heating. It's 99.77% slate-free so that every ton is all burnable coal. Then it burns so completely that you have 10 to 26% less ash. Scientific burning tests show that a ton of BLACK STORK has 700,000 more heat units than ordinary anthracite. Thus, for the same comfort, you use less coal by weight. Many users tell us they save 10 to 20% on their coal bills with BLACK STORK.

Future Motors May Use Dust Instead of Gas

Ebling, Germany, (AP)—Dust and powdered grasshoppers soon may serve the Fatherland as motor fuel.

German scientists and engineers are wrestling with the problem of using dust, waste, residues and even ground insects in motors have just received word that experiments of Dr. H. Wahl, of the Schichau shipyards, with dust combustion engines are nearing success.

One of the main obstacles of dust as fuel—the heavy wear and tear on the motor by grinding ashes—has been successfully overcome, declares Dr. Wahl. He says the Schichau company has developed a metal alloy which is harder than any known steel and therefore suitable for a motor designed to run on dust.

New Metal Effective

Previous attempts with dust combustion motors failed, explains Dr. Wahl, because usually after 150 hours' trial run the cylinders and pistons were worn to pieces by the grinding effects of the extremely hard residue of burnt dust.

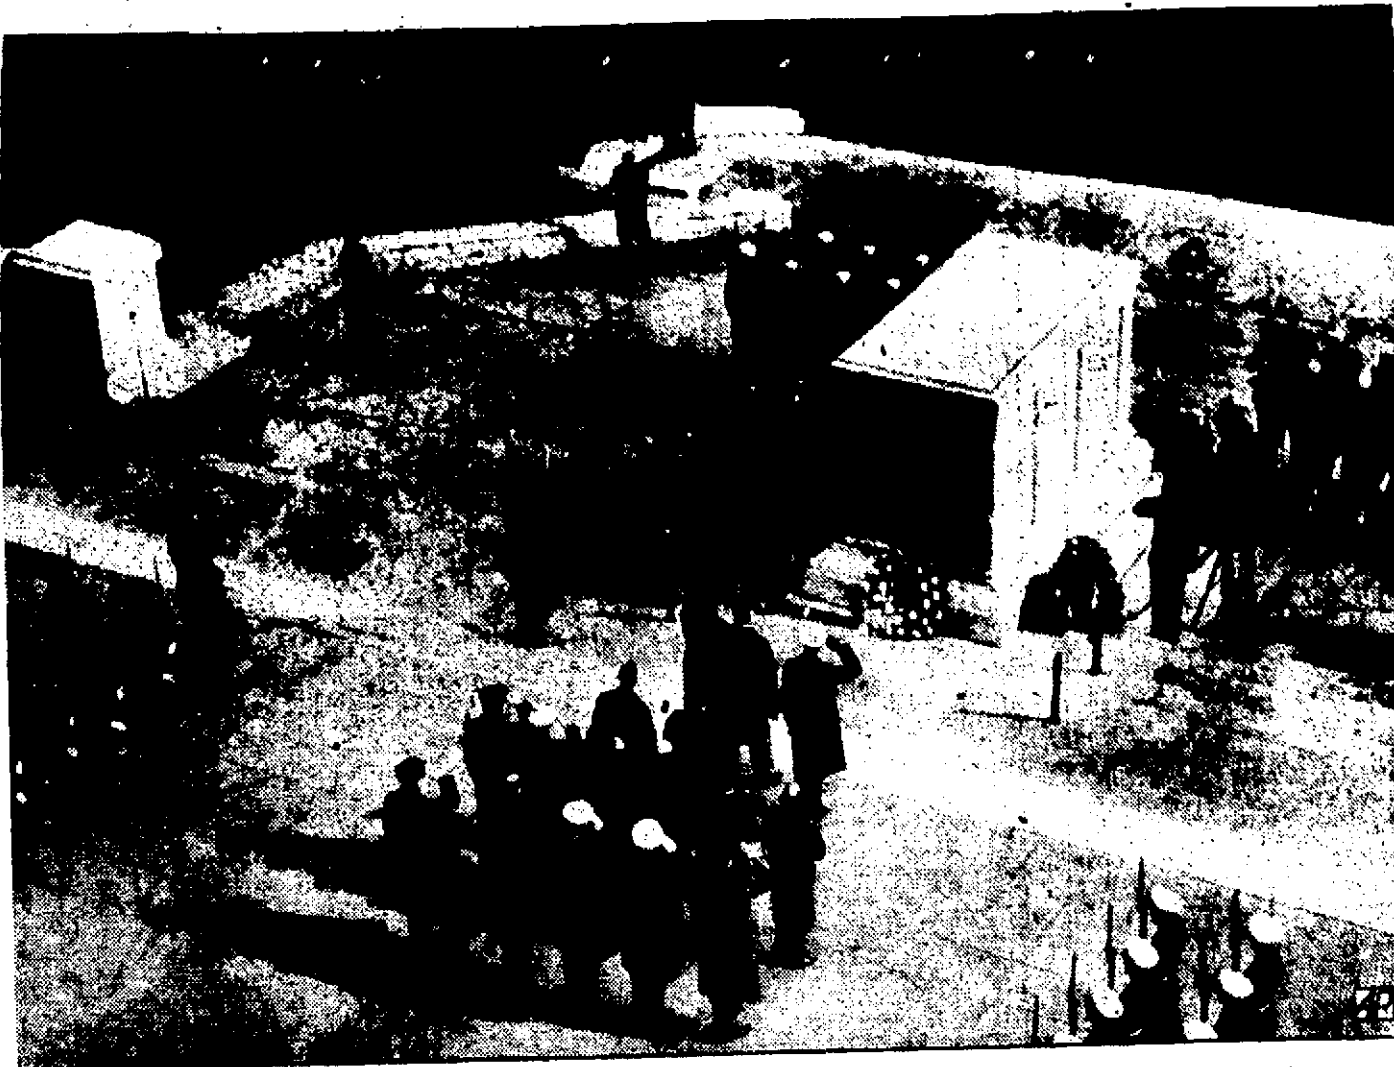

The new metal alloy, however, withstands the hardest grinding, he says, citing that only 1/700 of a millimeter was ground off the cylinder walls of a motor made of the new metal during a test run of 150 hours.

Motor Small

The experiments are part of the nation's four-year plan to achieve economic self-sufficiency.

Dr. Wahl says his "dust motor" is not much bigger than an ordinary motorcycle engine, but declines to divulge further details, except to say that it runs on almost every kind of properly powdered dust, such as that of brown coal, hard coal, saw dust, remnants of grain, beech nuts, copra, cocoa powder, rice, hay and even ground grasshoppers.

PRESIDENT LEADS NATION'S ARMISTICE TRIBUTE

While a bander sounded "The Star-Spangled Banner," President Roosevelt, standing at attention between his military and naval aides and surrounded by picked men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, led the nation in its Armistice Day tribute to the World War dead, at the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington. Behind the chief executive and his aides are members of the official party.

TILLSON

Tillson, Nov. 11—Usual services in both churches Sunday. Sunday school at 10 a. m., church service at 11 o'clock.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Science Editor)

New York—The great dinner pal of most of the oceans is the deep, cold water of the Antarctic.

This source of life for sea creatures, on which much of human food depends, has been found by the Discovery, British oceanographer, at the bottom of Weddell sea, in the Antarctic, the scientists found the richest waters in the whole world.

They abound in nutrient salts, phosphates and nitrates, which are scarce in warm waters, but which are necessary for the "plankton" life which furnishes the primary dinners of all the fish.

At the very bottom, three miles down, the heavy cold Antarctic waters flow north. Above them, just under two miles deep, warm water flows south. Over that layer is a colder one, half a mile down, springing from the ice-diluted water of the Antarctic continent. This water is so cold it sinks, but lacking weight in salt does not go far under the surface. On top is a drift of warmer surface water, coming always down from the equatorial regions.

CHICHESTER

Chichester, Nov. 11—Miss Keitha Henderson of Tully has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. A. DuBois.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid held its monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. L. Keator on Thursday afternoon. The next meeting will be held in the church on December 2.

Mrs. Johnson of Kingston visited her mother, Mrs. R. Bennett, on Thursday.

Miss Helen Bennett and Mrs. Reginald Bennett attended the Ladies' Auxiliary Monday evening.

The Missionary Society of the Wesleyan Church held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. L. Rowe on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomson entertained relatives from Endicott over the week-end.

Several from this place attended the funeral of Mrs. Abraham Lane at Laneville Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. M. Kiraly and son and daughter spent Sunday with their cousins, Mrs. C. Rion, and Mrs. L. M. Frederic.

CHRISTMAS CHEER

A merry Christmas for every youngster in the city is already being planned by the Mayor's Christmas Cheer Committee.
 Christmas cheer was brought to 1,500 children here last year and there is need of its continuance this year. Members of fire department and police department have started to make a house to house canvass asking for contributions of old toys.

This is a commendable work, and the part played by the schoolboys and girls is worthy of special mention. The unselfish spirit displayed by the youngsters in this work is something for the city to be proud of. These children who brought their toys to school for those less fortunate have again expressed their eagerness to help.

In order to make this year's drive a success the cooperation of all in a position to contribute is necessary. Money will be needed as well as toys, clothing, etc. A large number of residents are showing hearty interest in this work but there are also a large number who feel that governmental agencies take care of those in need. As has been proven in other years this private endeavor is absolutely necessary if the true spirit of Christmas is to be brought into many local homes. Private charity helps individuals and often obviates permanent public expenditures which the taxpayers must meet.

The great heart of the American people beats first and most effectively in the philanthropy of the private source and our social program as a people originated in relatively small gifts from private agencies. This same spirit is needed today. The cooperation of all who helped to make last year's drive a success is again solicited.

ENGLISH LABOR

Here is a bit of comment on the British labor problem for Americans. It is from Roger Babson, the veteran business statistician, who is abroad studying foreign conditions.

When he first visited England many years ago, Mr. Babson says, labor was "fighting for recognition." It was organizing and striking, and feeling raw high.
 Eventually there developed a strong labor party. After the war it obtained control of the government. The result was different from what either side had expected. "The labor party soon learned that in running a nation, there are other factors to consider besides wages and hours. Increased wages and shorter hours sent up costs so much that England could not compete in foreign markets. This resulted in unemployment."

The Labor Party then recognized, he says, that it had "bitten off more than it could chew." A coalition government was organized, and in a modified form this coalition still governs England.
 "The following," adds Mr. Babson,
 "should be interesting to Americans. After English wage workers became thoroughly organized and collective bargaining was un-versally granted, labor troubles ceased for the most part. The outcome has been much the same as the case of the fight for woman's suffrage."

READING THE NEWS

The director of a school of journalism tells high school teachers of journalism courses that one of their important tasks is to teach pupils to read newspapers intelligently. Most papers these days are crammed full of civics, economics, politics, social theories, science, arts, literature, finance—material that is as educational as school courses dealing with the same subjects. If all this stuff were used as intelligently by readers as it is prepared intelligently by the newspaper staff, the country would experience a great awakening of public interest in good government, social progress, and so on.

Critics who complain that newspapers are sensational and don't print anything but comics, sports and scandal haven't been observant and haven't been getting full value out of their papers. They are not reading them intelligently.
 Many progressive teachers already make generous use of newspapers in their classrooms. But doubtless more can be done along this line.

AMERICA'S EXILED KING

America has not always been rude to ex-kings. A sheriff's sale of the last remnant of a once huge estate in New Jersey reminds newspaper readers that Joseph Bonaparte, King of Spain and elder brother of the Emperor Napoleon, passed many years of his exile in the United States. The New Jersey Legislature of 1815 gave him 1,000 acres of land near Bordentown. Under the name Count de Survilliers he "employed himself in agriculture" there for 25 years. In 1841 he was permitted to join his wife in Italy, and he died there a few years later.

Only a year ago, almost any part of this country would have welcomed the Duke of Windsor as a permanent resident. Now, so fickle is public opinion and so disturbing are slight incidents where a former British king is involved, that it will take healing time to smooth ruffled feelings, lay political and diplomatic bogymen, and quiet the emotions of anger and mistrust recently aroused. We took our ex-kings more calmly 120 years ago.

GAS ON STOMACH

When there is a sense of fullness in the pit or top of the stomach, perhaps a slight pain or distress with considerable belching of gas, it is usually considered "slight indigestion," or slight dyspepsia. While the stomach or food is blamed for this "full" feeling, in the majority of cases it is a sluggish liver and gall bladder that is at fault. Eating smaller meals, cutting down on fat and gas forming foods, and taking bending exercises will often prevent this full "bloated" feeling.

However, while the liver and gall bladder are most often the cause of this fullness in pit of the stomach, with belching of gas, it should be remembered that some of these cases are really due to heart disturbance, so that what often is thought to be a little indigestion may be a definite sign of heart disease.

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, who has done so much research work on the digestive system and the large intestine, says in the American Journal of Disease and Nutrition:
 "Belching, fullness in pit of the stomach, or pain is often an early sign of heart disease, especially if it follows exertion, and particularly exertion after eating—if golf or gardening is followed by a restless, gassy or wheezy night."

"Dr. Herrick and McCracken have shown that, after a meal, the blood flow more than doubles, not only in the blood vessels supplying organs of digestion, but also in all bloodvessels of the rest of the body. One can easily see why a man whose heart is ordinarily just strong enough to stand the extra strain of a short walk, is not able to take this walk after meals, when the load on the circulation has already been increased almost to the breaking point; and one can also realize that the diet of heart patients should be light."

The thought then regarding an occasional feeling of fullness with belching of gas is to "forget it."
 If it comes on often, or after a large meal and when no exercise is taken it is likely due to sluggish-ness of gall bladder and liver, and smaller meals with less fat together with bending exercises should prove helpful.

However, as pointed out by Dr.
 Alvarez, when belching, pain or fullness in the pit of the stomach follows exertion (exercise) and particularly exertion after eating, early heart disease should be considered. The common sense thing of course is not to worry about it or pay no attention to it, but to be examined by your family physician. If no heart disease is present, all well and good; if heart disease be present your physician can prescribe the necessary diet, rest, or exercise to enable you to live safely.

Two's Company

By MARGARET GILSON HAZZUC

The Characters
 Nina, Junior League and exceptionally married.
 David, a charming, well-tailored stepfather, is on a 5-month trip with his wife, after shamelessly taking love to Nina.
 Money, Nina's gay, youthful mother who is wild about Richard, is traveling on doctor's orders.

David, a bright young auto salesman, adores Nina and strives to make her happy on his small salary.

Gracie Proves A Barb

BEFORE Nina, in all her preparations, had been the vision of Gracie's delicious meal... served so easily.

Her own salads and sandwiches had seemed as she prepared them, perfect examples of the culinary art. But now, as she came out with the dishes, her confidence vanished. People had to get up and move back their chairs, as she crossed over to the buffet... which suddenly seemed too large for the amount of food.

There were not enough little tables to put things on, David had to eat off the cold meat, but in her embarrassment over the general disturbance, she forgot it until they were well into the lobster salad. Gracie went out with her, into the messy kitchen, and helped her carry in the cups...
 the very last thing Nina wanted.

The mangled salad and half-eaten sandwiches looked particularly unappetizing, when they returned to them. Nina could think of less and less to say.

Her color grew more like the bell of a peach, by the minute.
 The meal that had taken so many hours to prepare, was over in what seemed like as many minutes. Although the living-room looked like a hotel pantry after a convention banquet, she began to worry that they had not had enough to eat.

David was having such a good time with Gracie, that she began to hate him. Every word of prose about her food, sounded to her distracting, like a grown-up's kindly effort to humor a child.

There was no screen to put up, to hide the unsightly mess, as there had been at Gracie's apartment; and everybody pitched in and helped to clear up the place.

David had remonstrated at first, and insisted on doing the work himself—trying to please Nina;
 but his progress was so slow, that Gracie just got up quickly, and proceeded to help him. Hatelike as he was, in a moment, it was gone.
 They all went into the kitchen, going in and out of the kitchen, and Gracie got spilled on.

When Nina came back from putting French chalk on her guest's dress, Gracie had the whole place cleared away. The bridge tables down. The cloth folded.
 "Great work, Gracie," David was congratulating her, and Nina retired to the bathroom for a quiet cry.

The next thing that they received out of ice, David had to go to the corner to get some. Gracie to keep him company—went too.
 Then cigarettes. Nina had forgotten to get an extra carton. Jack Knight went this time.

And then, after they had put up the bridge tables again, they discovered that there weren't enough poker chips in the box. Nina had bought at the cigar store.
 Gracie suggested using matches.
 "Excuse me just a second, will you, while I go and look for some..."

More getting up, and moving of chairs.
 David was so polite, so eager to be a help that he was constantly saying "Let me, sweetheart," and "I'll go, baby," thereby calling attention to her labors. He never let her squeeze by him, but jumped up to let her pass, and then Jack and Bill would have to jump up too... offer their assistance...

Just To Wring Her Neck

It seemed so poor Nina, who had tried so hard to make her party a success, that the entire evening was spent moving furniture, milling about... going for soup, or ice, or cigarettes that had been forgotten... And Gracie, all the time, helping her out, smoothing over her mistakes... And not only that, very definitely playing up to David, damn her, so cool and healthy looking. So efficient.

Damn her... she could have teased off this silly party, with crutches, with one arm, or a clinging, with one arm. Nina had a fierce desire to pick her up in her little $12.75 model, and plunk her down at the Central Park Casino with a sophisticated crowd, and confront her with a menu in French... Though that was silly, too; Gracie would have got away

ARDONIA

BABSON on BUSINESS

LABOR QUIET IN ENGLAND

Babson Says Every Worker Belongs to a Union.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 12.—England is free of much of the labor unrest which we are experience. Labor troubles have decreased drastically in recent years. From a peak in 1926, the annual number of workers involved in disputes has dropped 85 per cent. Not only the return to prosperity, but the high degree of unionization, are responsible for this improvement. Total membership in trade unions in England at present is 5,400,000, or nearly one-half of all male industrial workers.

Yet, surprisingly enough, union interest in England seems to be on the wane. Labor leaders over there are now trying desperately to stage a "demonstration" as they call it. They recently have had a hard time in getting even small audiences. When I asked one of the leaders the reason for this difficulty, he said:

"Some years ago when labor was fighting for recognition, this hall would be many times overflowed when I called a meeting.
 Now, when everyone is a member of some labor union and when collective bargaining is universal, the wage workers have lost interest in union activities."

New Slant on Labor Issue

This is typical of what I heard everywhere in England. Industrialists over there believe that American employers are foolish to fight labor in its attempts to organize and bargain. A manufacturer said to me: "A boiler explodes only when the safety valve is tied down." Labor is well employed wherever I go. Unemployment has been cut in half since the crisis. New buildings are going up everywhere. Total construction is double the level of five years ago.

Britain's share of total world trade has edged up from 28 per cent to 32 per cent. Retail trade is very active. Trains and buses are crowded with people. Holidaying is even more popular than it is here. Retail prices and the cost of living have been held down remarkably well. But wages and the standard of living are both much below our own. Intelligent and skilled women workers are satisfied with ten dollars per week.

A 700-Year-Old Labor Law

I spent several days in Gloucester, England, because it is the city from which my birthplace—Gloucester, Massachusetts—took its name. It was once the capital of England where Parliament met. The first labor legislation ever enacted was written in that city in the year 1250. This first labor law was to prevent workers from one county coming into another and "spoiling the demand for labor thereby reducing wages."

Of course, 700 years ago all English labor was agricultural.
 Some sections would have much better crops than others. To "protect" the laborers of each county, this law was passed. It was the forerunner of the regulatory legislation with which we are wrestling today.

Incidentally, while looking up this first labor "act," I came across a law whereby anyone found "cutting his initials" or otherwise defacing a bridge, building, statue, or fence, was exiled for life. This law was backed by labor because it reduced the supply. For centuries, hundreds of different experiments and programs have been tried over there and, like the above-mentioned law, the worker's only real protection—whether he be German, British, Canadian, or American—lies in greater production and lower prices.

'New Deal' Old Stuff

A study of history shows that England has had ten violent

"New Deal" periods. There is nothing in the Roosevelt program of today which has not been tried in England, France and Germany.

Some of this legislation—such as Stock Exchange Regulation and Old Age Unemployment Insurance—has stuck; but all previous attempts to regulate prices and wages have failed and been repealed.

Today, Parliament is Interested in increasing the birth rate, improving the health of workers, eliminating slums, and reducing the cost of living. I repeat, all our New Deal legislation—which came in 1933—has been tried in "old stuff" to English and Continental investors. They do not fear it. Even labor leaders are skeptical of it as an aid to them.

These leaders say: "The working people of America have secured a much higher standard of living without restrictions and legislation. They are foolish to get tied down by labor unions and let the inefficient workers set the pace for the entire group."

The average weekly income of workers of the United States is within two per cent of the high of 1929 while the cost of living is from 12 to 15 per cent less.

This does not mean that our workers are saving this amount of money, but rather that they are getting this proportion more in food, clothing, shelter, education and comforts. The same figures also apply substantially to England, although the pay scales and standard of living are considerably under our wage and living standards.

Europe Likes New Deal

Yes, America has a motor vehicle to every five persons while England has one car for every twenty individuals; and we have an electric refrigerator to every three families in comparison with one to every twenty British families. Let me emphasize that the manufacturers and big employers of England and Europe are all for Roosevelt and his experiments.
 They believe that our New Deal will so increase manufacturing costs in America that it will be easier for their goods to jump our tariff walls and undersell our products in our markets.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO

Nov. 12, 1917—Rose and Emma DeCicco, aged 11 and 8 years respectively, were instantly killed while Frank DeCicco, their brother, and Joseph and James Ne-none and Theresa DeCicco escaped with slight injuries when the auto they were riding in became stalled on the Flatbush avenue crossing and was hit by a West End train.

Judge A. T. Clearwater was reappointed a member of the State
 Probation Commission by Govern-

Rebels Retreat On Aragon Front

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Nov. 12 (AP).—Spanish government sources reported today that a Catalan infantry attack in the Sabiniego sector of the Northern Aragon front had forced the Spanish insurgents to retire from several front line positions. The insurgents insisted, however, that the assault had failed and said large numbers of bodies found after the fighting supported their contention that insurgent machinegunners had taken a heavy toll.

Insurgent communiques reporting the action yesterday said "whole regiments" of the Catalonians had been "crushed." Insurgent diplomatic sources said Japan, Portugal and Hungary were expected soon to accord full recognition to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government. A diplomatic spokesman expressed gratification at the agreement between the insurgents and Britain under which they will exchange "commercial agents."

(The British foreign office announced last night that the agreement had been concluded but reiterated Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's recent assurance to the opposition in the House of Commons that the exchange of agents would not constitute recognition of the insurgents.) The insurgent mine blockade of the eastern Spanish coast was reported to have been extended north to Barcelona and in the Bay of Rosas.

WALKILL

Walkill, Nov. 12.—Mrs. G. Upright left Walkill on Saturday to spend the winter at Woodbridge, N. J.

Talmidim Hikes

Fourteen members of the Talmidim enjoyed a hike on Thursday. The club went to the Gallop Hills Observatory, where some really good cooks showed their skill, and then took pictures of the scenes. Only one casualty marred the pleasantness. One member wrenched an ankle but first aid applied by Selwyn Tucker swiftly relieved the pain. After a gay day the weary members tramped home.

Eleanor Will Have to Stay Home, Says Rose, Groom-elect

Denver, Nov. 12 (AP)—Showman Billy Rose said today he has discarded all "silly romances" about concealing his romance with Eleanor Holm Jarrett and decided to declare publicly that they would be married as soon as they are divorced from their present mates.

And when they are married, Rose said, Miss Holm simply will be his wife. Her careers as swimmer, movie player and actress in his huge stage spectacles will be checked.

Glamorous Miss Holm, who defied the American Olympic committee last year and was bounced out of the big Berlin show as a result, asserted irreverently.

"He's the boss."

Rose said his divorce from "Fannie" Bricé, comedienne, would be up to her. Miss Holm, he said, will take action to divorce her singer-husband, Arthur Jarrett, as soon as she completes movie retakes in Hollywood. "I trust Miss Bricé undoubtedly will get her divorce as soon as she can," Rose stated, "but she's busy on a picture and probably won't be able to leave Hollywood for several weeks."

On to Hollywood. He said he and Eleanor would leave immediately for San Francisco. She will hurry on to Hollywood.

Now 27, Rose's career stepped through stages as short-hand champion, song writer, and "Fannie Bricé's husband" before he attained top recognition as a producer with his first spectacle, "Jumbo."

Miss Holm, a record-breaking backstroke swimmer, smashed the front pages when she was banned from the 1936 Olympic team.

American Olympic officials dropped her on charges she drank champagne aboard the liner that carried American contestants to Germany.

"All of us have the nicest feelings about our mates," Rose stated, in direct, matter-of-fact manner.

"But too many careers in a family mean too much separation. We're all agreed on that."

At Beverly Hills, Miss Bricé said "I don't know a thing about it" when asked if she would divorce Rose.

The dialect comedienne observed her 46th birthday at a rented mansion here last month. She and Rose were married by Mayor Jimmy Walker in New York city in 1929, two years after she divorced Jules (Nick) Arnstein and changed his love grew cold when she had her nose reshaped.

Mission Circle Held Meeting

Highland, Nov. 11—Mrs. John K. Hackett and Miss Madelyn Hartshorn of Poughkeepsie were guest speakers at the meeting of the Mission Circle at the home of Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb. Mrs. A. W. Lent introduced the speakers. Miss Hartshorn is secretary of Missionary Education in North River Presbyterian and was crowned in the dress of an Indian woman which she had purchased at the Cananda Mission in New Mexico. Miss Hartshorn described the work done among the Indians in both school and hospital by Dr. and Mrs. Salsbury, the latter was formerly Miss Cora Burrows of Marlborough. She also visited the Rosamond Goodard Community Center near Fresno, Cal.

Mrs. Hackett gave a spiritual talk, stressing the virtues of patience, growth, constructive criticism, loving tolerance. The musical selections were led by Mrs. Helen Deyo Brown.

Following the meeting the hostesses, Mrs. Rathgeb and Mrs. Richard Burton served. Gathered about the small tables were: Mrs. W. D. Corwin and son Danny, Mrs. Rachel Rowley, Mrs. Gideon Tompkins, Mrs. William B. Taber, Mrs. Matthew Busch, Miss Julia Van Keuren, Mrs. A. W. Williams, Miss Laura Harcourt, Mrs. A. W. Lent, Mrs. Carrie Ostrander, Mrs. Edward Griffin, Mrs. Jennie Abrams, Mrs. N. D. Williams, Mrs. Elmer Randall, Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail, Mrs. D. S. Haynes, Mrs. Edgar Boyce, Mrs. J. W. Blakely, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. Charles Stall, Mrs. A. Squires, Miss Eliza Raymond, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Rathgeb, Mrs. Hackett and Miss Hartshorn.

Highland, Nov. 11—In observance of Armistice Day the 18 officers of Highland Chapter O.E.S. took part in a program at the meeting Tuesday evening. Refreshments of jello, salad, wafers, crullers and coffee were served by Mrs. Joseph Mellor, Mrs. Lloyd Plass, Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw, Mrs. Elmer Fisher, Mrs. Elton Tompkins.

The Rev. and Mrs. S. A. McCormac, Mrs. J. R. Melius, Mrs. Charles L. DuBois and Miss Ada Van Nostrand attended a district missionary conference held in Grace Church, Newburgh, on Wednesday.

About 20 ladies took part in the Milton Unit Fellowship service Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist Church. The program was arranged by Mrs. S. A. McCormac.

Mrs. Eugenia T. Hilday, daughter of Dr. F. W. Terwilliger, will be a guest speaker over WOR on the Allie Lowe Miles Club hour at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Hilday, whose home is in Bloomsburg, Pa., is a graduate of the Highland High School and the Emerson College in Boston.

Mrs. J. Compton French of Tallahassee, Fla., arrived Tuesday night and remains until Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail at Lake Lodge. A number of guests were entertained Wednesday evening in her honor.

Clayton Harcourt drove up from Ridgewood, N. J., Saturday morning and took his sisters, Mrs. Mabel Hasbrouck and Miss Laura Harcourt, for a ride around the Ashokan dam.

Trooper James Benson arrived at the home of his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Daley, at the river Sunday morning. Trooper Benson had spent the past three weeks in a hospital near Birmingham for appendicitis treatment.

Mrs. William Ught spent Wednesday with relatives in New Falls.

Mrs. Harry B. Cotant has been confined to her home this week with a sprained ankle. Mrs. Cotant made a misstep while at camp at Lake Katrine on Sunday.

Maybe this is still the land of democracy; but when we read of all these queens in the high schools and colleges, we dunno.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Nov. 11.—On Thursday evening, December 9, a pancake supper will be held in the Methodist Church Hall, under the auspices of the Sunday School. Proceeds will benefit the Sunday School Christmas Fund.

On Thursday evening, December 9, in St. Mary's Hall, the local chapter of the Catholic Daughters of America will hold a games party with Mrs. William McGowan. Cards and other games will be played. Tickets are on sale and proceeds will benefit the "Kiddies Christmas Party" during the Christmas holidays.

The dates for the voting of taxpayers on the disposal of the old schools in Marlborough and Milton had to be changed. The Board of Education has learned that it is required that the date be published for four weeks in advance of the meeting. This necessitates a change. December 7 has been set as the date for the Milton building and December 14 for that of Marlborough. Taxpayers of the old District No. 2, in Marlborough, may vote at the December 14 meeting and taxpayers of the old Milton District at the meeting on December 7.

On Tuesday, Roy Barry and Albert Barry of Newburgh left for the Adirondacks where they will join a party of friends on a hunting trip. On Friday, Mrs. Roy Barry and Mrs. Albert Barry will join the party and remain until Sunday.

On November 17 in the home of Mrs. Doyley Hutchins, the Ravine Rebekah Lodge will conduct a measuring social.

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Association met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Barnes. Miss Maude Harcourt was the assisting hostess.

Beginning Sunday, December 14, Sunday School will be resumed in St. Mary's Church after the 9 o'clock Mass.

Mrs. Myron Sutton is still in a critical condition in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, as the result of a caesarean operation performed last week, at which time she gave birth to a daughter, Joyce Ann. Mrs. Sutton is the former Marjorie Bloomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dinnick Bloomer, and is a member of the Presbyterian Church and has been an active member of the church choir and Sunday School.

The regular meeting of the Marlborough Parent-Teacher Association was held on Wednesday afternoon in the school building.

James Scott of Milton spoke on "Art in the Community". Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Grace Graves.

Allen Purdy, Calvin Staples, Jr., Joseph Cuttito and John Lynch, Jr., who are on a hunting trip, are expected to return on Wednesday.

Mrs. Jennie Lowery has resumed her duties in the local school after being ill at her home for a few days.

Mrs. Olive Kniffin will leave on Sunday for Catskill where she will spend a week visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cleora Hornbeck.

Joseph Gaffney, collector of taxes for the Central School, reports that he has collected $43,730.55 to date. The total sum to be collected is $64,528.47. Mr. Gaffney is still collecting at his home on the Latintown road and will continue to do so until November 29.

William Froemel, who is employed in Newark, N. J., spent the week-end at his home on Western avenue.

IT'S GOTTA LOTTA UMMPH!

Meaning—the Most Modern Automobile in the World is the new 1938 Buick—with DYNAFLASH ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING

IF YOU'VE put a sparkling 1938 Buick through its thrilling paces—And tried to say in words what this standout car's got—And found to your surprise you couldn't begin to do it justice—Listen, don't think you're the only one!

"It's gotta lotta ummph!" say trier-outers vainly trying to express all the marvelous things they've felt.

"Ummph!" meaning zip—flash—power. "Ummph!" meaning all you ever expected to find in a car—and a great deal else in addition!

Fact is—demonstration, not conversation, is the thing to describe this new Buick.

To say it's quick—nimble—agile is to do only fractional justice to its DYNAFLASH engine and what it does every time you touch off its thrifty power.

To call its TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ride velvety is only to participate its ride. Use the words jarless, level, floating, serene—and you come a little closer.

But still you neglect the direct-ability this car gets from its new rear springing, the reduced risk of skidding, the simpler maintenance, and longer rear tire wear that go with it.

No, you can't cram a new Buick into words—only its action can tell its story.

NEWMAN CLUB HELD REGULAR MEETING

On Tuesday evening, November 9, the Newman Club held its regular meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Due to the good work of the committee the Newman Club hay was a success. For this reason President John Cunningham congratulated all on their splendid work.

The Newman Club is held for boys and girls of high school age with the purpose of continuing to a small extent the religious education of Catholic students who attend a public high school. With this object in mind a short but very interesting sermon was given by Father Moore.

All members of the club have the privilege of asking to the next meeting one of their friends. This is so that other high school students may see how Newman Club meetings are conducted.

After the meeting had been closed an enjoyable hour of dancing was held.

Oliver Goldsmith was locked in by his landlady when Dr. Johnson called on him, asked him if he didn't have a manuscript he could sell for him, and was handed "The Vicar of Wakefield," one of the most delightful books ever published.

LAD'S SUICIDE BRINGS FOOD

William Troeller, 13, (above) found only two grapes to eat when he returned to the destitute home in which he and his starving brothers and sisters lived in New York City. William hanged himself. The pathetic story of his suicide brought many gifts of food to the bereaved family.

Bishop Asks Windsor Report

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Bishop of Fulham, who has jurisdiction over St. George's Anglican Church in Paris, said today he called upon the Rev. J. L. C. Dart, for a report explaining the Duke of Windsor's decision to stay away from yesterday's Armistice service.

The Bishop added, however: "If Canon Dart's report agrees with what I have read, the matter appears to be at an end." (The Bishop's inquiry developed from the Duke of Windsor shunning the Armistice Day service, at St. George's, because the Rev. Mr. Dart had declared the Duke unwelcome. The Rev. Mr. Dart afterward publicly apologized for his remark.)

Planning Event
Paris, Nov. 12 (AP)—British World War Legionnaires today planned an event at which the Duke of Windsor would be received—in replacement of the invitation to Armistice Day services which their former comrade declined yesterday.

Col. Theodore Crowther, commander of the Paris Post of the Legion, said several suggestions had been made and the Legion would attempt to fulfill the Duke's wish to meet the Legionnaires.

Pershing Leads Diseases Fight

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—General John J. Pershing, a little grayer but still the keen-eyed "Black Jack" of World War days, is back from France to take command in a new war—the fight against social diseases.

The 77-year-old Commander of the A. E. F. returned yesterday from his annual trip abroad as head of the battle monuments commission to take over the chairmanship of the National Anti-Syphilis committee of the American Social Hygiene Association. The campaign will open with 1,000 conferences over the country on February 2, National Social Hygiene Day, and an educational program of wide scope will be continued through the month.

Pershing had a word of hope for peace. "Nobody wants war," he said, "and, while things do not look so promising for the moment, I don't think there will be a war for some time."

FHA Holds Out Brighter Earnings

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration held out the prospect of larger earnings today to induce private capital to build thousands of new homes.

The F.H.A., first agency to respond to the efforts of President Roosevelt to stimulate private construction, increased from 6 to 8 per cent the maximum dividends permitted corporations which get federal insurance on mortgages financing large-scale projects. Stewart McDonald, F.H.A. administrator, said he believed this would result in "millions of dollars worth of new construction."

Reduction of labor costs in the building field, another subject of study by Mr. Roosevelt's new housing committee, was received coolly, however, by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. He said he doubted the workability of a proposal that building workers accept lower hourly rates in exchange for a prospect of steadier employment. The new 8 per cent profit rule will apply to projects involving a large number of family apartments or homes renting for a price as low as feasible under earnings requirements. Thirty such projects already have been insured for about $30,000,000.

United States exports of chemicals and related products were valued at $122,000,000 during the first eight months of this year, double the value of 1933 shipments.

Nine point test PROVES COKE BEST

ONLY COKE CAN GIVE YOU ALL THESE NINE ADVANTAGES

- 1 LOW COST per season.
- 2 GIVES MORE HEAT per ton, because of high fixed carbon content and cellular structure.
- 3 BURNS MORE COMPLETELY, with less loss of unburned fuel in the ashes.
- 4 LESS HEAT LOSS to chimney, because of small draft required.
- 5 EASY TO TEND, because it requires less draft and responds more quickly to draft changes.
- 6 IGNITES MORE READILY.
- 7 LESS ASHES to dispose of.
- 8 MAINTAINS STEADY TEMPERATURE.
- 9 CLEAN.

ORDER NOW FOR THIS WINTER

STOP now and check the fuel you used last winter against the nine important advantages of coke. See if you have been getting your money's worth. The experience of thousands of users proves that coke is unquestionably the finest solid fuel on the market. In spite of its high quality, coke actually costs less to burn. You get all heat for your money. And you have the satisfaction of using a fuel that maintains a steady even temperature with a minimum of attention, in any type of heating plant: warm air, hot water or steam. Place your order now.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

Says Fall Plowing Good for Gardens

Ithaca, Nov. 12—Fall plowing is especially important to prepare the home garden for planting next spring. Gardens that are not plowed in the fall may have to give way to farm jobs considered more important in the spring; or in town, they may have to wait until the plowman comes.

Fall plowing has other advantages when compared with spring plowing, says Dr. A. J. Pratt of Cornell agricultural extension service. It reduces erosion by allowing water to collect in the furrows; it improves heavy soils by exposing them to frost; it aids in insect control since insects are exposed to the weather; it relieves the pressure of spring work; it makes the garden easier prepared for planting; and it lessens the danger of coarse vegetable matter that is turned under.

Except with heavier soils, wetness makes little difference in fall plowing; winter frosts put the soil in good condition, says Dr. Pratt. In the spring, however, heavy soils should be allowed to dry before they are plowed.

"Fall plowing, of course, does not allow for growing a green manure crop when the garden is idle. Since vegetables are left in the garden late in the fall and are planted early in the spring, a green manure crop has little place in the average garden.

Humus can be maintained better with farm manure or compost."

Plow the garden this fall to about the same depth as usual, suggests Dr. Pratt. A careful job will save time next spring when the gardens are fitted for planting.

Destroy Pests Of Flowers Now

Ithaca, Nov. 12—Hoodlums of the plant world that cause losses of millions of dollars to crops each year can be thwarted by agricultural G-men with a clean-up now in field and garden.

Plant pathologists are on the lookout for these plant parasites, but the cooperation of all persons who grow plants is needed to stop them, according to Prof. P. P. Pirone of the department of plant pathology at Cornell University.

"Gather and burn all the rubbish and dead plant parts now. It will destroy millions of these harmful fungi and bacteria. If these stalks, stems, and leaves are allowed to decay, the harmful organisms will be safe in the soil, ready to start their war on plants in the spring.

Among the diseases than can be controlled in this way now are: Leaf spot of lilies, hollyhock rust, mildew on phlox, bacterial black spot on delphiniums, Botrytis blight on lilies and peonies, rust on snapdragons, and black spot, mildew and rust on roses.

Once these plant parasites are in the soil, only costly treatment with formaldehyde or live steam will kill them. A fall-cleanup of the garden is the cheapest, simplest, most effective disease-control measure known, Prof. Pirone says.

THE AFRICAN VIOLET

A UNIVERSAL FAVORITE

By The Master Gardener

Indoor gardens are receiving attention now, and if you are making any purchases of additional plants to enlarge yours, do not overlook the Saintpaulia, or African Violet. Several years ago this beautiful little free-blooming plant was almost unknown, but today now do you find a florist who does not carry it.

Its demands are not exacting, and it gives months and months of bloom, but there are a few points which the person unfamiliar with its culture will appreciate knowing.

It requires plenty of light, but not direct noonday sun. An east window with a strong light, but with not over two hours of sun a day, will fulfill its needs in this respect. Too much sun will cause burning of the leaves.

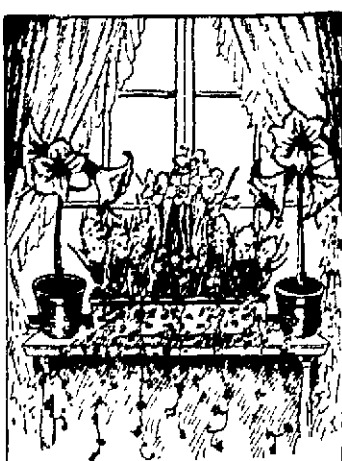

While it likes plenty of moisture and a humid atmosphere, drainage must be perfect. The soil must never be waterlogged. Also, all watering should be done from the bottom—that is, set the pot in water when the soil seems dry and allow the pot to absorb water from the bottom until the entire earthball is saturated. Water applied from the top would cause the crown to rot. Never allow water to touch the leaves or crown of the plant.

I find an excellent means of keeping the surrounding air sufficiently moist is to set the pot in a larger pot containing damp peat moss. Then all that is necessary between weekly waterings is to keep the peat moss damp, thus providing for constant evaporation of moisture in the air. This method is used in the green house by some growers of African Violets.

The best potting soil for this plant is a mixture of peat, sand, and loam. Small pots should be used, as the plant will not bloom until potbound. Feed lightly once a week with a complete balanced plant food which has been dissolved in water used for supplying moisture.

Guard against excessive heat, also draughts. Cold air blowing on the plant will stop bloom.

Bulbs for Indoor Window Box

A Window Box of Colorful Flowers Is a Cheerful Sight in Winter.

Window box gardeners may plant in the fall for indoor bloom throughout the winter. The chances for success indoors are equal, if not greater, than outdoors, and plant materials are almost as numerous; more important, there are no storms and draughts to combat.

The best planting materials are the forcing bulbs. They are easiest to grow and produce the most brilliant display. A few plants may be transplanted from the garden, and some foliage plants added, but the lovely and cheerful colors come from the bulbs.

The gorgeous amaryllis with velvety trumpets and gay colors needs only a sunny window for healthy growth. The lily-of-the-valley, if started from pips, is easiest, and lovely indeed. Hyacinths are ideal pot plants. The early tulips may be forced into bloom if started in time and given care, and that whole tribe of early garden subjects called the minor bulbs can be grown indoors. Most popular is the grape hyacinth, or Muscari, of deep blue coloring. The squills or scilla, and also the crocuses can be potted for winter color.

The narcissus, especially the trumpet type, is another excellent bulb for indoor growth.

Lilies That Are Easily Grown

Regal Lily.

Fall is the most favorable time to plant hardy lily bulbs. Even in the coldest regions, the hazards of a winter outdoors are likely to be less than those which attach to spring planting.

The idea that lilies are difficult to grow is rapidly being dispelled by the success which thousands of amateurs are having all over the country. Most of the lilies are as hardy as oaks, and thrive with little attention, once their basic needs in the way of soil, drainage and depth of planting are provided.

Good drainage is vital. When the foliage of a lily plant turns yellow and the plant looks sick, the first cause to suspect is excessive moisture. Select a place where there is no question of good drainage, and remember that drainage is sometimes a matter of soil texture.

Deep planting is required by all lilies which are "stem-rooters," that is, which make roots above the bulbs. A depth of eight to ten inches above the bulb is recommended. Lilies which make all their roots below the bulb, such as the Madonna, are planted from three to five inches deep.

Meeting at Stone Ridge

On Friday evening, November 12, at 8 o'clock at the Stone Ridge Grange Hall the Rev. Rostoe S. Strivings, formerly of Stone Ridge, will speak on central schools, also Gilbert Banker, district superintendent of schools of Delaware county. Everyone is welcome to attend.

All advertisements, with certain exceptions, in the daily newspapers and magazines in Lima, Pa., will be subject to an advertisement tax of 10 per cent under a law recently enacted.

ing. Do not leave near windows on cold nights.

Heat, abrupt temperature changes or too little light will start or spread decay. Improper watering also causes decay. Water-decay usually first becomes apparent at the stalk base.

Yellowing of leaves may be from overwatering, from the use of water not of room temperature, or from a lack of nourishment.

Cut off all stems of withered flowers promptly to prevent formation of seed pods.

When leaves are dusty, give a very light brushing with a soft brush.

For curing or preventing mites, to which this plant is subject, place a saucer of camphor flakes under the plant.

State Agricultural Station, Its Personnel, Achievements

(This is the second of a series of articles explaining some of the workings and the results obtained at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station, a main cog in the state's agricultural machinery, presented by The Freeman and The Associated Press.)

By JOHN B. DAVIS

Geneva, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Without the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station's continuous battle on farm fronts since its founding in 1882, dairymen might be confined to tiny rural markets and the great western New York fruit belt might be a maze of scrubby trees producing inferior fruit.

"Some agricultural industries could scarcely exist without the work the experiment station has done in the past 50 years," explained Dr. U. P. Hedrick, the former director of the station. "There could be no profitable fruit growing without the control of insects and fungous diseases. Experiment stations have developed all the remedies now used for insects and fungi."

"Dairying, too, would hardly be profitable without sanitary control of milk in cities and towns. All control methods have originated at experiment stations and this station has taken the lead among others of the country."

Present methods in sanitary milk control throughout the state were developed by Dr. R. S. Breed and his associates at the Geneva institution. Dr. Breed made it possible to trace the sources of milk contamination to their origin, checking disease epidemics.

"Germ-chasing" is one of the biggest jobs at the station, for before ammunition can be made to combat the "enemy," the name and source of the germ must be found.

Dr. J. R. Sandborn, specialist in research, now is conducting a germ hunt in the paper bottle field for the milk industry.

Day after day he dissolves hundreds of containers in test tubes to isolate germs and bacteria and type them, once the type is determined, Dr. Sandborn has a clue to how they got in the paper in the first place. Back tracking and testing each step, he locates the germ source. Sometimes it may be in the home refrigerator, paper mill, in the vats, in the logging camp or in the special work of forming the paper into bottles.

Once the source of a particular germ is located, the paper company rectifies it and Dr. Sandborn starts on a new hunt until all of the germs have been identified and eliminated.

But germ detectives are not the only type of sleuths at the agricultural station.

High in one of the main buildings are the seed testing laboratories, directed by M. T. Munn, chief of seed research. Here scientists work with microscopes and incubators to spot unscrupulous seed concerns and save the public thousands of dollars each year.

State seed inspectors constantly comb the state, picking up packages of seed which are sent to Munn for testing. The seeds are analyzed, their germination percentage determined and the results are compared with the promises on the package label. If the seed does not live up to label representations, the seed firm finds a state inspector knocking at its door with Munn's report in one hand and a subpoena in the other.

Investigations are not only made on seeds for farm crops, but flower, lawn and plant seeds which many city dwellers put out each year.

So successful has the station been in its experiments that companies dealing in agricultural products have called on the Geneva scientists to solve their problems. Sometimes they send their own scientists to work with the station unit. Dr. Sandborn is such a specialist.

Often the problems were turned over to Dr. Hedrick with the necessary funds to carry on the work. Ten such projects are now under way and scores more have been solved by the station scientists. Work is being done in dairying, sauerkraut making, growing of seeds, fungicides, frost foods, pomology and vegetable crops.

State Winners Go to Chicago

Ithaca, Nov. 11—Winners of state 4-H Club contests who will represent New York at the national club congress in Chicago, November 26 to December 4, have been announced by the central 4-H Club office here. Altogether, about 40 delegates from 26 counties will attend, including state winners, alternates, and county delegates.

New York's delegates are entered in national contests and exhibits, and also compete for scholarship awards. The state entries from this locality for National 4-H girls record are Leslie Clinton of R.F.D. 2, Greene, Chenango county. Alternate is Helen Churchwell of Ulster Park, Ulster county.

The most flourishing lines of business in the world today are guns, bombs, bullets, poison gas, gas masks and hostile propaganda.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE

By Police Lieutenants PHINNEY and SIMPSON

Lieutenant James V. Simpson of the Kingston police department in the concluding article of the series calls attention to the dangers of winter driving and offers some valuable suggestions. The article follows:

It is common knowledge that some road surfaces are more slippery than others, and that wet pavements seldom permit a car to be stopped as quickly as will a dry one.

In winter driving when pavements are wet and icy, it is necessary to drive at a greatly reduced speed. Driving too fast for existing conditions results in lack of control, especially at intersections. Lack of control means inability to stop without the assured clear distance ahead. Lack of control or speed too great for conditions is a factor which is nearly always found in connection with serious accidents. Even the keenest and most alert drivers are unable at times to judge the safe speed limits of wet and icy pavements, so it might be well to remember that swerving suddenly, or jamming on your brakes at a high speed may cause skidding even on dry roads. A slight swerve or a sharp turn at a reasonable speed on icy pavements may result in a disastrous skid. Exactly what you should do when your car is skidding on icy, wet, oily pavements depends on your driving experience.

Here are some suggestions, however, that are well worth following:

1. Don't put your foot on the brake.
2. Don't throw out your clutch. It is better to stall your engine than allow your car to waltz all over the road.
3. Take your foot off the gas.
4. To pull out of a skid, turn the steering wheel in the same direction that the rear of the car is skidding. You must be quick about this or the skid will be over and any damage likely to occur will be done.

A wonderful help for winter driving are tire chains, and every wise motorist always carries a set, and uses them when they are needed for the protection of himself and others.

When Browning was asked what his "Sordello" meant, he said to have replied: "When I wrote it, God and Browning knew; now God only knows."

On the Radio Day by Day

By C. E. RUTENFELD

Time is Eastern Standard.

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The second of the all-movie produced radio programs is being readied for the networks. Announcement today indicated it would start early in December. The program, to be called "Hollywood Parade," would take over the Wednesday night 45-minute now used on WEAF-NBC by the film parade and extend the period to an hour. Dick Powell, who ran the Hollywood Hotel program on CBS Friday nights for a year ago, is to be the master of ceremonies, with a different group of movie stars in each program. The Saturday night film parade on CBS would continue as at present.

Rev. Mr. Smeich Declines Call Of Uptown Church

The Rev. Earl A. Smeich, pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church of Binghamton, who was recently extended a call to become pastor of the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street, has declined the call, and the congregation will hold an important meeting in the church on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to consider extending a call to another pastor. While the church is without the services of a pastor, the congregation has engaged the Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe, former pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, to act as pastor until the pulpit is filled.

Speakers Heard at Federated Parley

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—A political science professor today left with the State Federation of Women's Clubs the advice that the United States adopt a "do-nothing policy" in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Nathaniel Peffer of Columbia University, addressing the closing meeting of the Federation last night, said "this policy was the only pathway of minimum expenditure of human pain."

In an afternoon address, Dr. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, told the delegates that "faith in Democratic self-government has been critically challenged since the World War but no price is too great to prevent that democracy from being uprooted."

"If we lodge enough power in Washington," he warned, "we can swing either to the Communist left or the Fascist right. This may happen within our generation. But, remember a democracy is more efficient than dictatorship."

He criticized the New Deal promise of "More abundant life" through the "economy of scarcity."

New directors of the federation installed yesterday included, by districts:

First—Mrs. William Foster Rowland, Larchmont; second—Mrs. Howard W. Neall, Jamaica; ninth—Mrs. Rhoda Hinkley, Poughkeepsie.

Hutcherson Case To Jury Today

Trial of the Robert Hutcherson criminal case was resumed in county court this morning and at noon the prosecution had concluded. Most of the morning was taken up with expert medical testimony of physicians who examined the little five year old child whom it is alleged was attacked by the defendant.

Defendant is charged with having abused a five year old girl at a vacant house on Henry street last August. Testimony as to her condition when admitted to the hospital after the attack was given by the interne who administered the treatment and also by Dr. Chester Van Gaasbeek who was in attendance.

It is anticipated the case will be submitted to the jury of 10 men and two women late today. Elmer Nathan appears for the defendant and Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver for the prosecution.

New Cold Record Set for Season

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—The mercury dipped today to a new low for the season throughout upstate New York, the second consecutive day of sub-freezing temperatures.

In many places the temperatures were within a few degrees of record lows for the date. At Binghamton it was 20 above.

The mercury hit 22 at Albany, 24 at Syracuse, 27 at Rochester and 28 at Buffalo as a heavy frost accompanied the cold.

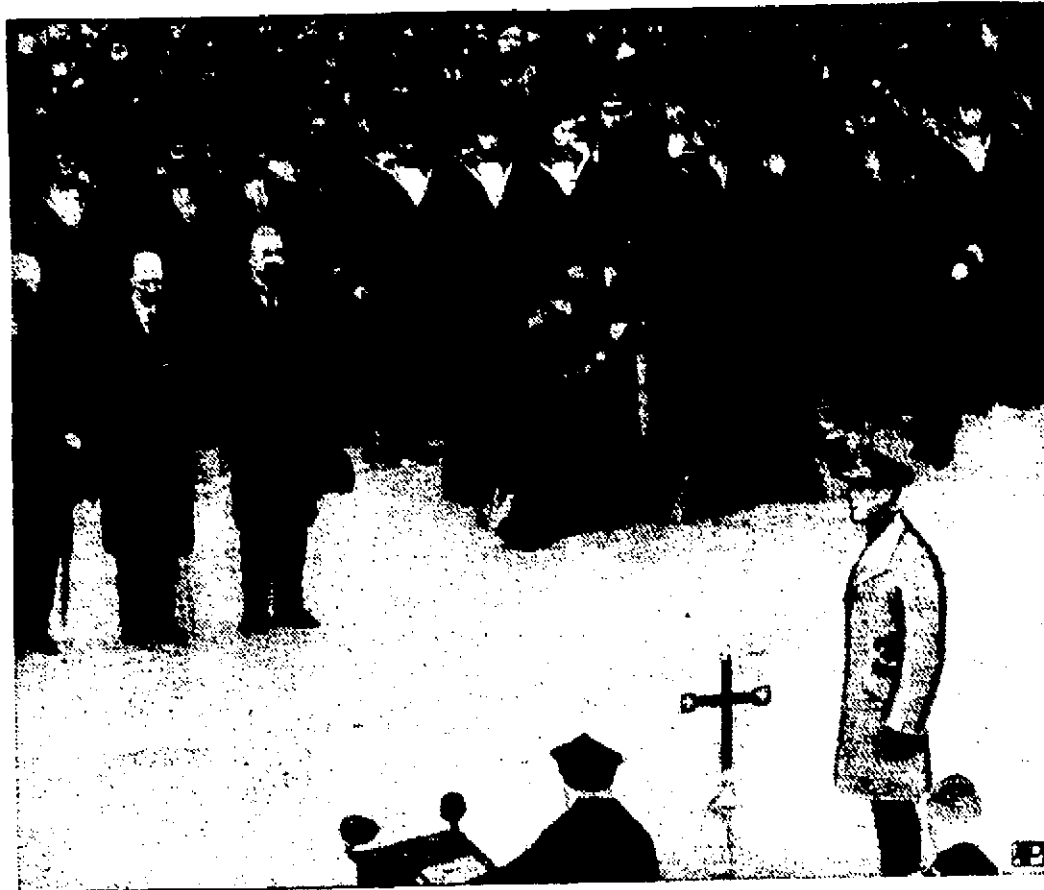

Exports of jelutong latex from British Malaya to the United States for use in the manufacture of chewing gum total about 4,600 tons, valued at approximately $1,700,000, in a year.

Nobel Prize Co-Winner

Dr. Clinton Joseph Davison (above) of New York City, with the Bell Telephone Laboratories, was, with G. P. Thomson of London, named winner of the 1937 Nobel Prize in Physics. Davison is a native of Bloomington, Ill.

BRITAIN'S ARMISTICE RITES DISTURBED BY LUNATIC

As King George of England stood at attention before the Cenotaph in London during the two-minute silence to the World War dead, a man struggled through the guards almost to the monarch's side and shouted "All this is hypocrisy—you're deliberately preparing for war!" This photo, radioed from London to New York, shows the king standing at attention as the man, Stanley Storey, is thrown to the ground by naval guards. He was later found to be a lunatic who escaped from an asylum. Standing at left are Viscount Hallam (left), Maj. Clement Atlee (center), labor leader in the House of Commons and Prime Minister Chamberlain.

'Terrible Meek' at Redeemer Church

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will present its first religious drama of the fall season Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The drama is a one-act play entitled "The Terrible Meek" and is by Charles Rann Kennedy, prominent author and playwright.

Although written more than 20 years ago the play has ever had a fresh appeal. Its plot is built around the theme of world peace and so convincing is it that when first presented years ago strenuous efforts were made to suppress it. The scene of the play is laid on top of Calvary Hill during the night following the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. The crowd has long since departed for home and the captain of the guard, detailed to stand watch over the three crosses, ponders the deed for which he and his men have been responsible that day. Presumably alone in his meditation, he is startled by a groan that seems to come from someone, crouching at the base of the cross of Jesus Christ. On drawing near, the captain discovers a grief-stricken woman and in conversation is startled to learn that she is the mother of the crucified Christ. A third character is portrayed by the soldier, who ascends the hill to receive further orders from his captain.

The play is unique in that it is presented in nearly complete darkness to accentuate the night effect. As the play advances the first streaks of dawn light up the scene. Finally the climax is achieved with a full burst of light from the cross of Christ. Redeemer has recently installed new lighting equipment with full rheostat control it is believed that interesting and effective lighting will be secured for the play.

The participants will be: The Roman soldier, S. Telford Read; captain of the guard, Fred Smith; Mary, mother of Jesus, Mrs. Adam Thiel. "The Terrible Meek" is under the direction of S. Telford Read. The costumes will be in charge of Mrs. James Rose and the lighting, in charge of Richard Bailey. Because of its closeness to Armistice Day the play with its emphasis upon peace comes at an appropriate time.

The folksy American custom of serving a substantial home-cooked Sunday dinner is as prevalent on Park Avenue as it is in the comfortable homes along maple-lined streets in thousands of American cities and towns.

Ahavath Israel Dance Committees Named

The 35th anniversary show and dance committee of the Ahavath Israel congregation held a meeting Wednesday night at the vestry room, and reported rapid progress in connection with the coming affair to be held at the municipal auditorium on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, November 24. Together with a popular local dance orchestra, a "big time" out of town band have engaged to furnish music for dancing and introductory concert. A well known Broadway musical comedy personality will headline their show of six additional acts, each in itself a feature. Sub-committees were appointed and the marked enthusiasm shown is indicative that this affair will be one of the outstanding social events of the year. The committee roster is:

General chairman in charge—M. S. Strawgate.

Assistant chairman—Dr. I. Adner.

Honorary chairman—Rabbi Harold Marateck.

Entertainment committee—M. S. Strawgate, H. Rafalowsky, S. Dubin, G. Kramer.

Decorating committee—Mrs. A. Herman, Mrs. H. Marateck, Mrs. I. Speiser, Mrs. M. S. Strawgate, M. Milne, B. Goldman, J. Levine, I. Adner.

Program committee—Mrs. H. Rafalowsky, Mrs. G. Kramer, Mrs. A. Herman, Mrs. D. Siegel, H. Rafalowsky, D. Gruher, M. S. Strawgate, I. Adner.

Check room committee—W. Spiegel, R. Miller, P. Fortel.

Publicity committee—I. Adner, S. Gold, I. W. Rubin, M. Weinberger, I. Goldman, E. Fein.

Box office committee—J. Panker, H. Leventhal, J. Levine, S. Gold.

Stage committee—G. Kramer, M. Milne, M. S. Strawgate.

Reception committee—Mrs. I. Adner, Mrs. H. Rafalowsky, Mrs. M. S. Strawgate, Mrs. G. Kramer, Mrs. A. Herman, Mrs. J. Panker, Mrs. M. Milne.

Ticket committee—H. Rafalowsky, M. S. Strawgate, S. Dubin, E. Shoen, H. Rafalowsky, B. Panker, H. Fortel, M. Dubin, S. Estroff, H. Shoen.

Flower girls—The Misses Rafalowsky, Strawgate, Nany, Panker, Adner, Kreppel, Levine and Dubin.

Door committee—A. Tompkins, I. Estroff, M. Dubin.

Treasurer of the hall—Max Milne.

Readings by Miss Mann

"Practical Christianity and the Jew" is the topic the Rev. Lee H. Hall of Rhinebeck has chosen to discuss at the meeting of the Jewish Youth Alliance this Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the social hall of Temple Emanuel.

Miss Milham Mann of this city will present at several monologues by Dorothy Parker. The entertainment committee has procured a radio with loud speaker equipment for dancing after the meeting. Refreshments will be in charge of Miss Belle Black. Miss Sylvia Present, chairman of the dance committee, will have more specific plans for the dance to be held November 28. Edward Bahl will report on the activities of the basketball team, which will play its first game in the Industrial League Tuesday evening of this coming week.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Blanche Jones of Catekill was given a miscellaneous shower on Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. John L. Schoonmaker, of Accord. In honor of her approaching marriage to Arnold J. Jones of Walkkill. Guests present were Miss Nellie Elmsdorf, Miss Edith Barton and Mrs. Robert Graves of this city, Miss Anna DeWitt of Hurley, Miss Sarah Lounsbury of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Carl Gazlay, Mrs. Harry Snyder and Mrs. L. R. Connor of Catekill, Miss Susie Gallagher of Maple Hill, Miss Miriam Kram, Mrs. Stanley Stern and Miss Mary Jane of High Falls, Mrs. Clarence Cox of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Frank Marinkowski, and Mrs. George Hammesfahr of Walkkill, Mrs. Gross B. Schoonmaker, Mrs. D. E. Schoonmaker, Mrs. Edward Carle and Mrs. A. L. Sahler of Accord.

The Guild of St. Ann of Holy Cross Church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Arthur Jordan at her home, 158 Main street and an enjoyable program was given and tea served. The Guild's next meeting is Tuesday afternoon, November 16, at 2:30 o'clock at the parish house.

Entertained at Bridge

Mrs. Milnor Travis of the Saugerties road entertained at two tables of bridge at her home last evening.

Mrs. Forman Hostess at Tea

During this past week, a series of four bridge teas was given by Mrs. Joseph Forman at her home on Albany avenue for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher Association of Temple Emanuel. Those who ponted during the series were Mrs. William Kraft, Mrs. Joseph Koenig, Mrs. Nathaniel Gross and Mrs. Harry Jacobs. Each event was well attended and was a social as well as a financial success.

Hostess at Dessert Bridge

Mrs. Howard St. John was hostess this afternoon at a dessert bridge at her home on Linden avenue. Two tables were in play.

Residents Attend Party

Last Saturday evening a surprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hull of Catskill. The Hulls are former residents of Saugerties. A pleasant evening was spent in dancing, cards and games. Those present were Miss Elaine Anthony, Bert Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. David Anils of Poughkeepsie, Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Southard, Mrs. Dana Southard, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney

Hull, Mr. and Mrs. A. Short, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hermance, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hermance, Mr. and Mrs. Fanny Hull, and sons, Martin, Freddie, Joseph and Robert Hull of Malden-on-Hudson; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hull and daughter, Donna, of Quarryville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank DePasquale and daughters, Loretta and Dolores, of Glasco; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hickey, of Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Edna Strauss and children, Ann, Billy and Theodore, Mr. and Mrs. James Stieritt and daughter, Lorraine, Maurice, Frank, Merritt, Hoff, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hull and family of Catskill. Bert Whitaker and his rhythm makers of Poughkeepsie furnished the music.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Anne Herzog Olsen, Mrs. William Shuler, Mrs. Henry Dickhout and Miss Dorothy Brooks are spending the weekend in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. William Sayre van Keuren and William van Keuren were luncheon guests on Wednesday of the Misses Lown of Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Fred Hall of Lafayette avenue entertained her card club at her home Thursday afternoon.

Attorney Henry E. Dodd and John Martin of Syracuse are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milnor Travis of the Saugerties road. Mr. Martin and Mr. Dodd will attend the Columbia-Syracuse football game tomorrow in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Nelson of Washington avenue are spending the week-end at their hunting lodge in the Adirondacks.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Shea of Stone Ridge have as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherman Hatfield of Ulster, and Miss Helen Taylor Smith of Philadelphia.

The Misses Pamela and Barbara Mandell, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Mandell, were luncheon guests on Thursday of the Misses Lively and Joyce Auchmoody at their home in Lincoln Park.

Kingston Hebrews School Activities

The pupils of the Kingston Hebrew School will participate in the Young People's services to be held at the Congregation Agudas Achim this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Hebrew Club will meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

The special class for Bar Mitzvah Boys will meet Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. The other Sunday school classes will meet at 10:30 o'clock.

The Kingston Young Judeans will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Jewish Boy Scouts, Troop No. 5, will meet on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Junior Young Judeans will meet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Older Members' Club Meeting

The third regular meeting of the Ulster County Older Members' 4-H Club was held at the Rosendale Grange Hall November 5, with about 40 members present.

After a short business meeting the president, Ethel Eckert, led the group in singing, with the capable assistance of Karl Limbacher. LeRoy Davis sang two numbers, "Moonlight and Shadows" and "My Cabin of Dreams," to the envy of all the fellows present and the delight of all the girls.

Mrs. Bower then led the group in a series of games. After the completion of the games, a grand march was formed, leading to the refreshment stand.

The older and doughnuts, with lollipops for dessert, were heartily enjoyed by all.

In all fairness, we can not blame the refreshment committee, or the refreshments for the disastrous results suffered by several members, whose hearty appetites can not be traced to hard work.

The balloon dance and several Paul Jones' were huge successes, with everyone dancing, or trying to, which, after all is the only way one can learn to dance.

The club is sending out a general SOS to anyone knowing how to do the Shag, or Big Apple, as there are several members highly interested in the above mentioned dances.

A committee, consisting of Ruth Hotelling, Florence Meredith and Karl Limbacher, was appointed by the president to plan for the next meeting, to be held the latter part of December.

It is to be hoped that the good time had by all at this meeting will act as an incentive to those who have not attended the previous meetings and that a greater number of our 300 eligible members will be present at our fourth meeting.

Those who attended the meeting were Helen Anderson, Gladys Klotz, Flatbush; Edward Balfe, Mary DeWitt, Leroy Davis, Ethel Eckert, Augustine Favier, Harry Mitchell, Charles Prehn, Erynes Terpening, and Marjorie Schermerhorn, Rifton; Sarah Boice, Roger Boice, William Morehouse, Gertrude Schaffner, Veronica Schaffner, Lake Katrine; Fred DuBois, Jr., DuBois Jenkins, Charles Schrieber, Arthur McCord, John Schrieber, New Paltz; Laurel DuBois and Geraldine McCord, Gardiner; Anna Givich, Margaret Lippert, Betty Purdy, and Helen Wesp, Rosendale; Ruth Hotelling, Bloomington; Naomi Limbacher, Warren Swarthout, and Karl Limbacher, Sawkill; Arnold Jacobsen, Stone Ridge; Catherine, Mary and Margaret McCabe, Walkkill; Florence Meredith, Eleonor Roach, Jeanette Meredith, Bruynswick; Nathaniel Phillips, Rifton; Edmund Thomas, Lake Katrine;

BE THE CENTER OF ATTRACTION BY TEACHING YOURSELF TO TAP

It's Much Easier Than It Looks

Would you like to be in the thick of things as Polly is? Then teach yourself to tap from simple diagrams as Polly did. Be invited everywhere for your gay, snappy dancing.

No, it doesn't take months and months to learn these bewildering, flashing steps. We'll let you in on a secret. All tap dancing, even the elaborate stage routines, is based on a few simple steps you can learn in a day.

The sleek Military Buck that Polly is doing now features a combination of tap sounds she practiced her very first lesson—Straight Tap and Heel Drop.

The diagrams show you how easy they are. To do the Straight Tap, raise the right foot, bring it down snarling, striking the floor with ball of foot.

Other basic taps you learn as quickly. Before you can say "Eleanor Powell" you're tapping your way through practice routines, showing by your skill in Waltz Clog and Buck that you've arrived as a tap dancer.

Our 40-page booklet, SELF-INSTRUCTION IN TAP DANCING, makes it all plain—from primary steps to full-length routines. Diagrams help you fit steps to music, get speed and grace.

Send 15c for our booklet, SELF-INSTRUCTION IN TAP DANCING, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Parent-Teacher Association

School No. 8

The regular monthly meeting of No. 8 Parent-Teacher Association was held Tuesday at 3:30 p. m.

Miss Wheeler's pupils entertained by giving a health play. More entertainment was furnished by Mrs. Chase and her daughter, Margaret, who rendered a duet. Irving Krom gave a recitation and Dorothy Keuhn played a piano solo.

The speaker of the meeting was Dr. Spottiswood Taylor from the Kingston City Laboratory. Dr. Taylor gave a very instructive lecture on the recognition of the disease, syphilis. He urged the cooperation of all members of the community in helping to exterminate the disease.

The pupils from the Misses Wheeler and Costello's rooms won the attendance banner for the month.

The prizes for the membership drive were won by Mrs. Nickerson and Miss Elmendorf's rooms.

Two books will be awarded each of the above rooms mentioned.

The P. T. A. extends an invitation on November 12 to enjoy a social "get-together" at the school. Movies and other entertainment have been planned. Refreshments will be on sale during the evening.

Don't forget next monthly meeting date. An interesting speaker, Miss Helen Druceley, will talk on the ever popular subject, the diet.

P. T. A. School No. 7

The P. T. A. of School No. 7 held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, November 9, in the evening.

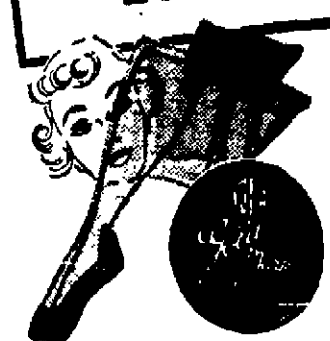

Mrs. Yeager introduced the speaker, Mrs. Helen Cashin Davitt. She spoke of dancing as valuable training for the child's body. Mrs. Davitt used as her assistant, Miss Jane Ball, who ably demonstrated the various body movements used in dancing.

The Association voted to send to the Conference at Milton Naigles and Treasurer DuMond.

Attendance banners were won jointly by Mrs. Leonard's and

Football Predictions on Games Slated for Saturday

Ryan Heir Marries

Basil A. (Pat) Ryan, 28, (above) grandson and one of the principal heirs of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, was reported in serious condition in a Hickory, N. C., hospital, to which he was admitted a few hours after his marriage to 21-year-old Martha Barkley. Young Ryan recently had been "volunteer" coach of a Hickory football team.

By HERBERT W. PARKER

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Newly-equipped with the latest type of shock absorbers, this corner bends a wary eye on the national football program and timidly ventures the following guesses for what they may be worth:

Pitt-Nebraska: the Panthers won the game they wanted when they trounced Notre Dame last week, but there still is a little matter of a possible re-bid to Pasadena. That ought to be motive to carry Dr. John Bain Sutherland's pupils past this dangerous hurdle. Pitt.

Army-Notre Dame: Notre Dame has come through a grueling schedule with high honor and a couple of defeats and the Army is on the rise but needs a horse shoe or two to get past Harvard. The nod, faint though it may be, goes to Notre Dame.

Minnesota-Northwestern: the Gophers can forget about the national championship this year, but they still can snare an undisputed Big Ten crown out of the wreckage. This won't be easy, but we like Minnesota.

Oregon-California: the scoreless draw with Washington indicated there was a touch of gift about the Golden Bears. This trip into the far north may spell more trouble, but the ballot goes to California.

Rice-Texas A. & M.: Rice is the perfect illustration of the futility of figures. The Owls couldn't score a point in their first three games and now have pushed over Texas, Auburn and Arkansas in succession. Maybe this is where the Owls get off, but they get the ballot just the same.

Alabama-Georgia Tech.: on its good days, Tech is liable to smother anyone (ask Vanderbilt) but this corner strings along with Alabama.

Duke-North Carolina: this virtual decides the Southern Conference title and the vote goes to Duke.

Dartmouth-Cornell: one of the most hazardous of all occupations is to bet against Dartmouth, whose speed merchants always are dangerous. nevertheless, this corner, taking an occasional long shot, takes Cornell.

Columbia-Syracuse: more to be pitied than scorned is Columbia, whose luck has been mostly bad. Just the same there's no selection possible here but Syracuse.

Manhattan-North Carolina State: Manhattan rarely puts together two consecutive good performances, but rates the edge.

Harvard-Dartmouth: the Crimson tunes up for Yale. Harvard.

Brown-Holy Cross; Holy Cross. Bucknell-Temple; always bitterly fought. Temple.

New York University-Georgetown: unpredictable New York U. is the choice.

Ohio State-Illinois: Spilled by Indiana, Ohio State can concentrate on squaring a few old scores in this one. Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Purdue: Difficult to pick. So much so that the coin comes out of hiding, spins and says... Wisconsin.

Southern Methodist-Baylor: Baylor ought to get back on the rails in this one.

Texas-Texas Christian: The Christian seems to be coming apart at the seams as a result of a brutal schedule, but get the call here.

Georgia-Tulane: Maybe the Bulldogs will wake up, but until they do—Tulane.

Louisiana State-Auburn: The Plainsmen seem to save most of their ammunition for Southeastern Conference foes, but here's a tough one for them to gnaw on. Auburn, with plenty of misgivings.

Tennessee-Vanderbilt: It's against the rules to do any artificial dodging, so, for better or worse, Vanderbilt.

Stanford-Washington State: The form chart points to Stanford.

Washington-U. C. L. A.: On an exceedingly blind stab, Washington.

Santa Clara-St. Mary's: Ought to be grounds for suit if Santa Clara doesn't win.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise. George Washington over North Dakota State; Rutgers over Ohio University in a close one; Williams over Amherst.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—College football. Red Grange believes, should "quit being stubborn and take a tip from the professionals."

"I see where some coaches are worrying about defense being so good that the game is slowing down," said the famous, one-time galloping ghost of Illinois today, "and I think they have something to worry about if they persist on refusing to make one simple rule change just because we pros are using it."

"Too many scoreless ties? Too many dull games?" he continued. "One rule adjustment would take care of them—allow the college players to pass from anywhere back of the line of scrimmage as we do, instead of not closer to the line than five yards."

Grange, whose radio work, business affairs and duties as assistant coach of the Chicago Bears has prevented him from seeing a single "big" game this season, nevertheless has been following the college sport closely through the newspapers. He thinks the number of "dull" games is on the increase.

Kansas City—Ola Olson, 232, Minneapolis, threw Ed (Strangler) White, 230, Birmingham, 15-00. Rudy La Ditzel, 220, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., defeated Jack Donovan, 230, Tipperary, Ireland, two of three falls.

Army Ace

Ever since Charles G. Daly made Walter Camps all-America in 1901, West Point has specialized in the production of great quarterbacks, halfbacks and fullbacks. So it's no surprise to find observers classing the Cadets' present ace ball-carrier, Oklahoma Jim Craig, as one of the east's best.

The present dynasty started with Lighthorse Harry Wilson, who started his career at Penn State on a great Nittany team and then carried on at Army. In his junior year at the Point, he was joined in the Cadet backfield by Christian K. Cagle, a red-headed halfback who developed into a three-time all-America, the greatest runner and passer of Army history.

Cagle's record is all the more impressive because he was playing against the nation's great teams. He once helped beat Notre Dame with a 70-yard scamper, but it was in 1929, on the cold turf of the New York City Polo Grounds that he rose to his greatest heights.

Outmanned and outplayed in the line, Army stayed in that Notre Dame game on Cagle's great work. He ran the ends. He slashed off tackle. He chased his ends down field with passes thrown from the midst of clusters of Notre Dame tacklers. Only once did he falter and then Jack Elder, a renowned sprinter, grabbed one of his passes and dashed down the sidelines for the only touchdown of the day. Notre Dame won, but Cagle, magnificent in defeat, achieved his greatest distinction.

Since Cagle's time the line has remained unbroken. Ray Stecker followed him to glory and beat Notre Dame in the mud. Peck Wieg, a diver of a man on the Monkey Meyer type. Much carried on. Jack Buckler, slight of build but a powerful runner and accurate passer was next, with Joe Stancock, a great blocker, at his side.

Next came Monkey Meyer. Much has been written about the Monk. He was a great passer, a fine runner but mechanically there were other backs his equal. He had something else—a fine competitive spirit that lifted him out of the good class into the great. Not the greatest in Army history or the greatest of his time. But a great back.

And so—Jim Craig. He has a lot to live up to.

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Broadway lullaby: Max Schmelling, just off the boat, hurrying to the nearest movie.

"I hear 'perfect specimen,' is pretty good," says Max. "Did you see it?"

Trainer Max Machon says: "That fellow is nuts about the movies, ain't it?"

Frankie Fritsch, in a brand new overcoat puffing a big cigar in front of Dempsey's and wishing he had a pair for Army-Notre Dame. "I'll come a reporter and hand Frank a pair on the 50-yard line."

"Lissen," said the old Fordham flash. "The Cards will win the National League pennant and you'll have a whole box to all seven games."

Ike Jacobs limping out of the Algonquin restaurant on a cane. A gambler in front of Dave's Blue Room calling Washington and Lee, "Washington and Looey."

Joe Jacobs, the fight manager and Damon Runyon, the author, make a night of it in a Greenwich Village spot. . . . And Jimmy Kelly, owner of same, lamenting: "Things are lousy with me."

Business is off $500 per night. . . . I haven't won a bet in 30 days. . . . And when I bid $10,000 for the Chief, which guy comes along and goes me four grand better.

Jack Dempsey busy applying the old hot foot at a luncheon for boxing writers in his joint. . . . Lou Gehrig and the Mrs. emerging from a swanky restaurant.

The boys around town are having a good laugh on Walter (Good Time Charlie) Friedman who (may be the saint forer) was responsible for Jack Doyle and other non-clicking fistie importations. . . . Somehow the world got around old Good Time being featured in a Hollywood picture.

When the cinema hit the stein, the gang all flocked down to see it. . . . One reel, two reels, three reels passed and no sign of Walter. . . . Finally they flashed on a scene showing a fighter entering the ring. . . . Behind him, carrying a pall of water, was Walter (Good Time Charlie) Friedman. . . . He was in and out, just like that. . . . But he was swell while he lasted.

Alberto Lovell, Argentine heavyweight, who debuts here tonight, is deeply religious and the two rich guys backing him prefer to be known as "sponsors" rather than managers. . . . Harry Thomas, who fights Schmelling next month, was born Henry Pontius and once caught for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League. . . . Guess you all noticed Mr. Dizzy Dean didn't rate even honorable mention in the poll for the National League's most valuable player. . . . Charlie Woods, Clemson's classy center, has played 237 or a possible 420 minutes this year and snapped the ball 374 times without a miscue. . . . Nice going, Butch.

Highland High Here Saturday

Attempting to get back into the win column, following two consecutive setbacks by DUSO opposition, Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroon and White football aggregation will hook up with the Highland High School representatives at the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon. The game will get under way at 2:15.

Senior Basketball Meeting at Y. M.

All senior members interested in forming a Senior Class Basketball League are invited to attend a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. gym tonight at 8 o'clock. Selection of teams will take place at this time and a schedule will be decided upon.

A few minutes will be taken to explain the Democratic Club Plan and its relation to senior members. This plan has been accepted by the physical department committee as a measure to bring satisfaction to all members of the Y. M. C. A. plan is to organize groups according to their interests. Members interested in basketball will form a Senior Basketball Club with duly elected officers. The president automatically becomes a member of the physical department committee which meets to decide all matters pertaining to physical department activities. A manager and coach is also chosen from the membership in order to make inter-club competition feasible.

A new game, basketball golf, will be explained and discussed. If members are in favor of the plan as suggested by physical director, Charles Henkel, a tournament will be held with awards given as in regular golf tournaments. All members interested are invited to attend.

Net Champ Does Well on the Links

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 12 (AP)—Now that Ellsworth Vines, world professional tennis champion, has shot 67 in tournament golf, he feels qualified to tell the would you have to keep your head up on the court and down on the fairway.

After Vines won his second world amateur net title in 1935 he startled the sports world by taking up golf seriously. His 110 dubbing strokes fell to 70 by 1936.

But his real display came in the Pasadena amateur tournament this week when he shot a 69 and then a 67 on a par 71 course before being eliminated.

"The real difference between golf and tennis," he said today, "is that you have to keep your head up on the court and down on the fairway."

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press.

Toronto—Yvon Robert, 218, Montreal, drew with Danno O'Malley, 221, Ireland, one hour.

Columbus, O.—Billy Weidner, 176, San Francisco, threw Bert Rubi, 175, Hungary, 32-11.

Camden, N. J.—Ray Steele, 210, Glendale, Calif., defeated Mike Maruki, 206, New York, two of three falls.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Bob Godwin, 179, Florida, knocked out Stanley Nasrato, 163, Yorkers, N. Y. (8).

It Happened On The Gridiron

ONE SIDE, SON. WE WANT TO MAKE IT AN EVEN HUNDRED!

The largest score ever made by a Duke team was the 96-0 victory over Furman in 1891. (Duke was then Trinity College.) Touchdowns counted four points, and kicks afterward, two. Every man on the Duke team made a touchdown, the center being called back and allowed to run with the ball on the occasion.

Philadelphia—Roxie Forgi-one, 163, Philadelphia, knocked out Jimmy Belmont, 158, Pittsburgh (1).

Schenectady All Stars Will Bowl Jones Five on Saturday

Addison Jones, whose Jones Dairy men lead the Hudson Valley League with 14 victories and only four defeats, will take on the Schenectady All Stars, Saturday night at 8 o'clock, in Homer Emerick's alleys on Albany avenue.

The ninepin extravaganza was arranged by Emerick, who wants to introduce Tom O'Malley, one of his old rivals, from the Albany district. "O'Malley and I always argued about Albany and Kingston bowlers," said Emerick. "I want to prove I'm right about the calibre of plumen we have in this city."

This veteran captain of the Schenectady Stars has been one of the outstanding bowlers up Albany way for the past 15 years. Emerick says, and knows all of the top notchers around the capital alleys.

"When he comes to Kingston, you can bet he'll have a lineup of the best keggers he can dig up, and Jones will have to have his boys in their best form."

Jones says he isn't worrying. "I can depend on my bowlers all the time," he informed Emerick. "I'm not bragging, but we can take on the best and hold up our end. Remember, we were the only outfit to trim the Fisher Body stars last season."

The Daermen outrolled the Tarrytown team at Emerick's by the score of 3,007 to 2,998. Right now the Joneses are leading the Hudson Valley League.

Jones will have all of his regulars on hand to oppose the Stars. His roster contains the names of Al Kleffer, Ken Williams, Randy Kelder, Bob Hanley and Fred Rice. Jones will be ready to step in himself, too.

Chi Hawks Whip Rangers in Opener

By The Associated Press.

If the first week of the National Hockey League season is any indication, Bill Stewart wasn't kidding when he promised to open up the Chicago Black Hawks' offense this year.

Although it's still far too early to do any shouting, the immediate result of Stewart's work finds the Hawks (believe it or not) leading the American section of the loop after their first three games, in front of both the Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers.

They brought their 1937 model to New York for the Rangers' home opening in Madison Square Garden last night, and as a capacity crowd of more than 16,000 looked on, they whipped the high-geared Blue Shirts 3 to 1 with a nearly mixed combination of their new offense and old defense.

The Toronto Maple Leafs, meantime, remained in front in the International Division by a similar margin. They maintained the edge when the Maroons, putting on a three-goal, third-period spurge, mauled their Montreal rivals, the Canadiens, 3 to 0 in the other game on last night's card. The victory boosted the Maroons into a second-place sectional tie with the New York Americans, who, like Toronto, were idle.

Only One Ball Now For "Feeling Out"

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—The pay-for-play golfers who used to play five and six balls on practice rounds will have their warm-up styles slightly cramped during the approaching tournament season.

The Professional Golfers Association wound up its 21st annual meeting yesterday with a resolution that players "feeling out" strange courses use only one ball. Clubs had complained of damage done because players used too many balls. Another action of the meeting, which saw the re-election as president of George R. Jacobus, Ridgewood, N. J., was authorization of a committee to study ways of aiding public links players unable to pay for instruction.

Esposa Humbles Seabiscuit in Race

Baltimore, Nov. 12 (AP)—Humbled by a mare in his last 1937 appearance, C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit, money-winning king of the turf this year, turns westward tomorrow to train for the rich Santa Anita handicap.

The handicap champion all but had the $10,000 added Bowtie handicap won yesterday when William Ziegler, Jr.'s fleet, fighting mare, Esposa, closed with a rush to nip him by a nose. Burning Star was third.

National Alley Stars Will Oppose Crystals at Colonial

Featuring two of the nation's leading match game bowlers, the famed Fisher Body club of Tarrytown meets the Crystal Beauty Shoppe keggers Saturday night in a special exhibition at the Colonial alleys at 8:30.

"Shadow" De Angelo, diminutive anchor, and Mike Shriglio are the bulk of the Fisher Body class, with Johnny Masterson, Junior MacMahon, Jim Tantillo and "Pop" Bellotti rounding out the roster.

De Angelo knocked off a 691 series in New York Tuesday night and is averaging 211 in the fast

American National League at Thum's alleys. Shriglio won the international championship in 1932 at Stockholm. He holds the alley record average of 255 for 10 games in winning the Greater New York title at Thum's.

The Beauty Shoppe club which is leading the Silver Palace League, has a team average of 945 at the current stage of the campaign. The three leading bowlers are Larry Petersen with a 202 average, Fred Rice with 200 and Frank Shimek with 190.

Other members of the club are Marty Kellenberger, Charles Tiano and Ed Whitaker.

Nick Harvey After Kurtyka to Play in Kingston Lineup

Leaving the auditorium after Kingston's defeat Wednesday, Nick Harvey, oldtime star of the Colonials, told a Freeman sports writer that he thought Hank Kurtyka, the old "Hawk," would help Frank Morgenweck's club a lot.

"I think the Polo would do a lot of good," were Nick's exact words, "and I'm going after him for Morgan." Harvey has his heart and soul in Kingston, because he wants to see Morgenweck realize his ambition of winning the American League pennant.

"Kurtyka can get in there and share those passes," Harvey went on. "He is just the kind of a guy that would have done a lot of good against the Brooklyn Visitation."

Kurt earned his nickname, "Hawk," by his ability to intercept the ball. He was a big favorite when he played in Kingston two years ago. There is no doubt but that Morgan would welcome him, and appreciate Harvey's gesture in trying to get him for Kingston.

Kurtyka is playing independent ball in Paterson. He has a job, and for this reason did not make any special effort to get into the American League this year.

Mosconi Headed For Billiard Lead

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—Wes Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia bumped out of first place in the world's pocket billiard championship has a chance today to regain a leg on the top of the pile.

Mosconi meets Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland tonight and a victory will boost him to a tie with 23-year-old Irving Crane of Livonia, N. Y., for the coveted first place.

Crane advanced to first position by virtue of Mosconi's defeat yesterday at the hands of Jimmy Caras, of Wilmington, Del. It was the Wilmington cue artist's second victory in a day. Earlier he vanquished Marcel Camp of Detroit.

In another upset Ralph Greenleaf, 15 times world title holder and defending champion, was defeated by Andrew Pozzi, Philadelphia.

Daily average sales of variety stores in the United States in September were about 2 per cent above those of September, 1936, and higher than for any corresponding month since 1929.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Harry E. Weiner, who died suddenly in Albany on Thursday, will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, on Pearl street, with burial in Montrose cemetery.

Mrs. Myron Sutton, 18, of Marlborough, died Thursday morning in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, after an illness of eight days. Born in Marlborough on December 15, 1919, she was formerly Marjorie Alice Bloomer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dimick Bloomer, and had lived in Marlborough all her life. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Besides her husband and parents she is survived by a daughter, Joyce Ann, a sister, Evelyn M. Bloomer, Marlborough, and an uncle, including Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hutchins, Newburgh, and cousins.

The funeral of Mrs. Clara Evans was held from her late home in Connelly, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were very largely attended, the home being filled with sorrowing relatives, friends and neighbors who came to pay their last respects to one whom they loved. The services were in charge of the Rev. B. W. Chandler, pastor of the Connelly M. E. Church. There was a procession of beautiful floral tributes testifying to the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. The bearers were Charles L. Lauer, Alexander Radel, Clifford Hicks, Thomas Shay, John Meyers and Nicholas Spireweber. Burial was in the family plot in Riverview cemetery, Port Ewen.

The funeral of Thomas J. Kearney, who died on Tuesday, after a long illness, was held from the family home, 356 Broadway, this morning at 9 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church, where at 9:30 a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. James P. Moore. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes, together with spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards. The children's choir sang the responses during the Mass. At the offertory Thomas Dolan, son of the deceased, and at the conclusion of the Mass sang "Ave Maria." The casket bearers were Frank P. Boyle, Joseph A. Sheppard, James H. Kelly, John J. Boyle, Francis S. Cashin and Edward J. Kearney. The large funeral cortege was accompanied to St. Mary's cemetery by the Rev. William H. Kennedy, who pronounced the final absolution.

After a long illness Wessel C. B. Hasbrouck, a native of High Falls and resident of Poughkeepsie the last 24 years, died at his home, 9 Harrison street, at 1:40 o'clock Thursday morning. He was the son of the late Jacob Henry and Sarah Broadhead Hasbrouck. Mr. Hasbrouck was a member of Hiawatha lodge of Odd Fellows of Rosendale. Surviving are six children, Mrs. George Hand, Mrs. Harry Rose and Sadie, Evelyn and Harold Hasbrouck, all of Poughkeepsie, and Claude Hasbrouck, of Scotland. Three brothers, Peter E. and Andrew L., of Kingston, and Darius C., of Jersey City, and six grandchildren. Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon with the Rev. A. George Pearce, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Rosendale cemetery.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—An upward slant was displayed by leading stocks in today's market despite considerable profit selling based on Wednesday's sharp recovery.

The list was under pressure at the start in dealings sufficiently speedy to put the ticker tape behind. There was a quick come-back, however, and gains running to 2 points were soon widely distributed. There were a few swings of 5 or so.

Dealings quieted later and, near the final hour, most quotations were well down from their tops.

Transfers were at the rate of about 2,000,000 shares.

Prominent on the forward move were shares of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, National Steel, Crucible, Inland Steel, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Deere, Public Service of N. J., Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, St. Joseph Lead, Howe Sound, Westinghouse, du Pont, American Can, Allied Chemical, General Electric, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, Eastman Kodak, Johns Manville, Air Reduction, U. S. Gypsum, J. C. Penney, U. S. Realty, American Chain, General Rea, Union Carbide, Crane Co., and American Radiator.

Building material stocks were given a whirl on expectations a huge housing campaign will be inaugurated by the Federal Powers as a means of bracing employment.

Most rails were content to keep about even.

Helpful Attitude Toward Business In General Seen

So far as rumors and reports from Washington can be depended upon these days to give any indication of what is to be the policy for any length of time, a more helpful attitude toward business in general is seen as fairly possible. The stock market slump that started in mid-August and the business recession that is now admittedly in evidence has apparently brought realization that something must be done and some things undone unless worse is to come.

Washington dispatches are to the effect that the administration will probably recommend to the special session of Congress action that will lead to a curbing of further business recession this winter. The new recommendations, it is stated will be "simple" and not spectacular. They will, however, inevitably lead to some delay on the original list of work laid out for the special session—wages and hours regulation, crop control, regional planning and government reorganization.

With markets in this country closed yesterday because of the Armistice Day holiday, interests centered in developments abroad. The strong market here Wednesday, following more favorable reports from Washington, was reflected in the strong tone of American shares in early trading on the London market Thursday.

Profit taking followed the advance, however, and quotations generally closed below Wall Street's close of Wednesday.

Brazilian bonds closed three to five points off at Amsterdam, following President Vargas' coup in declaring a authoritarian state; jobbers here refused to deal in the bonds. The London metal market was strong. Stocks made a notable advance Wednesday on the New York Exchange, industrials advancing six points for the day, to close at 132.16 on the Dow-Jones averages. Rails were up 1.95, to 23.48 and utilities advanced 1.52 to 23.48. Corporate bonds were firm, government steady. Cotton was firm, rubber showed heavy gains, wheat was strong.

Freight loadings for the week ended November 6 are estimated at 730,000 cars, a more than seasonal decline; electric production was still up from a year ago, by 1.2 per cent. Department store sales were one per cent under a year ago, according to federal reserve reports, although sales for the first ten months were up eight per cent over 1936.

Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the Senate finance committee, in a letter to Secretary Morgenthau, made public yesterday, said that the undistributed profits tax law on corporations "must" be modified at the coming session of Congress.

New York Central reports net income of $24,495 in September compared with $1,133,374 year ago; Erie showed a loss as against net of $321,194 in 1936 period; Lackawanna also showed a loss compared with income year ago.

Pennsylvania Railroad voted a payment of 75 cents vs. preceding of 50 cents. Eastman Kodak voted a 50-cent extra and a $2 quarterly. Life Savers declared a 70-cent special and a quarterly of 40 cents. U. S. Gypsum ordered a 50-cent extra and a 50-cent quarterly on common.

Northern Paper declared a 63-cent extra and a 25-cent quarterly. U. S. Steel's October shipments totaled 792,310 tons compared with 1,047,962 in September and 1,007,417 year ago.

Indications are that combined earnings of the principal manufacturers of auto parts and equipment for 1937 will register an increase of at least ten per cent over 1936.

HERD REINDEER IN STRANGE ROUNDUP

Northwest Canada Scene of Big Undertaking.

Ottawa, Ont.—The world's strangest roundup is to be staged shortly on the Mackenzie delta in Canada's northwest territory.

Almost within the Arctic circle, Andy Bahr, American herder, and four Laplanders will undertake the task of rounding up a herd of reindeer driven there across the bleak, snowy wastes of the "top of the world" from Alaska four years ago.

The object of the roundup will be to ascertain how the herd is faring. The herd, originally 2,000 head, was purchased by the Canadian government in Alaska, and Bahr was engaged to drive it to the Mackenzie delta to provide a permanent food supply for the Eskimos living in the Richard's island area.

A count last summer revealed the herd had increased from 2,000 head to 3,000 head in sixteen months, and it is believed it has since grown to approximately 5,000.

The herd, since its arrival on the delta, has been carefully guarded and nursed by four Lapps who accompanied Bahr on the epic trek. They are also instructing the Eskimos in how to care for the reindeer and how best to exploit their full capacities as "beasts of burden" and food.

The Lapp "cowboys" are assisted by shepherd dogs which are as astute in their watch over the herd as they are with sheep.

Close vigilance is necessary because of the danger of possible stampeding when the deer are tormented by the insects and wild life that inhabit the bleak wastes. Prowling wolves who attack by night during the winter months, sometimes killing fifty reindeer in one raid, are the most serious problem confronting the herders.

The coming roundup will establish whether the experiment, carried out at great cost, has been a success.

Carey Explains Trip to France

stoppage of all traffic for two minutes, and Victory Ball tonight.

It is, therefore, fitting that I am here today as your guest speaker to give an account of the Third American Expeditionary Force, of the second pilgrimage of the American Legion to foreign soil, consecrated by the presence of thousands of our comrades in six cemeteries in France, one in Belgium and one in England, namely, Meuse-Argonne Cemetery, St. Mihiel Cemetery, Alsine-Marne Cemetery, Oise-Aisne Cemetery, Suresnes Cemetery and Somme Cemetery in France, Flanders Field Cemetery in Belgium and Brookwood Cemetery in England.

The pilgrimage was made at the invitation of the Government of France and the French war veterans, whose guests some 6,000 American men and women were for a period of six days after they set foot on French soil. We who were left from the World War went to revisit the battlefields of France and most especially to bow before the monuments marking upon the soil of France the places where our comrades fought and died and now lay at rest in peace.

Record of Accomplishment
 America's contribution to victory in the World War is an inspiring record of accomplishment. We can be grateful that the life of General John J. Pershing was spared for so many years after the war so that he could accomplish the inspiring contribution in the form of cemeteries and memorials. The cemeteries and memorials were established by the United States as shrines to the memory of her forces who served in Europe during the World War. They are dedicated in grateful remembrance to the achievements of all who served and to the sacrifices of all who died. Nine of the memorials are at European battlefields, two are at European ports, prominent in the World War history of the U. S. Navy and one in the city in France where headquarters of the Services of Supply of the A. E. F. was located. That was in Tours and that memorial was dedicated on August 5, 1937.

The memorials vary in size from three large ones in the areas of France where American combat forces were engaged in great numbers, to smaller ones outside of these areas. No two memorials are alike, as each was designed to fit its particular site and to give a comparative degree of commemoration with respect to others. The memorials are the Meuse-Argonne Memorial, St. Mihiel Memorial, The Alsine-Marne Memorial, Memorial to the Services of Supply, Naval Memorial at Hresl, Memorial near Somme, Bellicourt Memorial, Audenarde Monument, Vierstraat Monument in Belgium about four miles. Ypres and the Naval Memorial at Gibraltar.

Taken together, they commemorate in a fitting and appropriate way all services on the American forces in Europe during the World War. Of the eight cemeteries in Europe, six are in France, one in Belgium and one in England. In each is a memorial chapel, beautiful in design and restful in spirit, where visitors and relatives may go for meditation and prayer.

Five of the cemeteries in France and the one in Belgium are on American battlefields. On the walls of the chapel in each of these cemeteries are inscribed the names of American soldiers who lost their lives in the vicinity of the memorial and who sleep in unknown graves. In addition, the chapel in the Meuse-Argonne cemetery bears the names of the unknown dead in the Service of Supply and of the American Expedition to Northern Russia. The names of the soldiers and sailors who lost their lives at sea are inscribed on the walls of the Suresnes and Brookwood chapels.

American in Charge
 An American superintendent is in charge at each cemetery and large memorial to give information and assistance in locating graves. On this visit to France I visited the Suresnes Cemetery, which is very prettily located on a wooded hillside of the town of Suresnes, about five miles from Paris. It is one of the smaller cemeteries and the chapel stands on a hill overlooking the rows of white crosses. From the terrace of the chapel, which is of early colonial architecture, a striking panorama of the city is obtained on a clear day. Nature has aided, with a generous hand, the careful planning of this peaceful resting place for the American soldier, sailor, marine, nurse and civilian worker who died in and about Paris.

I also visited the Alsine-Marne cemetery which is laid out in a sweeping curve at the foot of the hill upon which stands Belleau Wood. The natural setting, the very inspiring chapel and the perfection of detail of the architectural and landscape development combine to give this historic spot an atmosphere of impressive dignity. Of all the American cemeteries on the battlefields of the World War this one is the nearest to Paris, being about 55 miles from there. Walking up a hill in back of the chapel in this cemetery one easily reaches Belleau Wood, which is famous in the history of the A. E. F. It was captured by American troops during June, 1918, after 20 days of continuous fighting. It is being maintained by the U. S. government as a memorial to all American soldiers who fought in the World War. Many war time relics are still being maintained there.

All of the memorials had previously been dedicated with imposing ceremonies except the Alsine-Marne Memorial at Hill 204, near Chateau-Thierry, erected in memory of the American soldiers who died in the Alsine-Marne Salient during the World War.

The dedication of this memorial, America's final dedication in stone to our nation's World War dead, was reserved to October 7, 1937, so that all who made the recent pilgrimage could attend the exercises. It was to the 300,000 American soldiers and marines who took part in the second battle of the Marne, and especially so to the 9,000 who were killed in the Alsine-Marne sector, that General Pershing at these exercises paid tribute, as did Major General James G. Harbord, former chief of staff, when he delivered the dedication address. After General Harbord's address a huge, gently flapping American flag was drawn slowly up the face of the Alsine-Marne Memorial as the French 6th Infantry Regiment played a mournful "Taps" and the twin figures, hands entwined, representing France and America, came into view before 3,000 French citizens and American Legionnaires. After the dedication we were taken by bus to Chateau-Thierry for lunch at a hotel. The officials of Chateau-Thierry and French veterans who fought at Chateau-Thierry dined with us. After lunch we went by bus to the Alsine-Marne Cemetery and from there we walked up the hill to Belleau Wood where still may be seen barbed wire entanglements and shell holes of 40 years ago. By bus we returned to Chateau-Thierry for dinner at the hotel again, and about midnight arrived in Paris.

Arrived Saturday.
 We first arrived in Paris about 10:30 p. m. Saturday after a three hour ride from Havre. Fortunately Louis Tudor and myself, together with 12 others, were assigned to the Hotel Cecil, the accommodations at which we could only praise.

Sunday morning at 7:30 a bus called at the hotel and took us to the railroad station. By train, we went to Tours with 1,500 others. We were given an official reception when we reached there and lunch at a hotel. After lunch we went on a sight seeing tour of the city by bus. Then to Blois by bus, where we were given another official reception and dinner at which 1,500 sat down to eat. By train we reached Paris about midnight.

Monday was a free day in Paris. Tuesday we went sightseeing in Paris by bus and a visit to the Suresnes cemetery, previously described. After the sightseeing trip we were taken by bus to the Invalides to a banquet which was presided over by Marshal Petain. Four thousand sat down in the huge open courtyard of the Invalides as guests of the French government and for two hours filled the tremendous open space in one of the largest banquets Paris and France has seen in many years. Prior to the serving of food General Petain made National Legion Commander Doherty a commander in the French Legion and after the honor was bestowed on the Legion commander both his cheeks were kissed, in the usual French manner, by the marshal. Other Legion officers were also decorated at the same time with lesser French honors. Former Vice President Charles G. Dawes was at the honored guests' table and he was beset by hundreds for his autograph. Two hundred male waiters served the meal. The Miami Life, Drum and Bugle Corps marched onto the court just before the meal ended and played "Over There" and won a great reception.

Parade Called Off
 We were to have paraded down the Champs Elysees during the afternoon of this day but for some unknown reason the parade was called off.

After the banquet I visited the International Exposition where 42 nations have gathered together on 250 acres of ground, along both sides of the River Seine for about 4½ miles to exhibit science, industry, art and discoveries. I toured the grounds by means of an electric motor car, seating three people. The Russian building was most inspiring from the outside to us and so we decided to visit it.

At 9 o'clock the same evening we toured the City of Paris to view the illuminations.

Wednesday morning we went by bus to Versailles, where the treaty of 1919 put an end to the World War. We were taken through the castle by guides. We returned to Paris for lunch and at 1:30 were on our way back to Versailles for the unveiling of the equestrian statue of General John J. Pershing, erected as a tribute from 36,000 French villages to the American Expeditionary Forces and its commander-in-chief. Six thousand French people and Legionnaires, stood for two hours in the rain and heard the U. S. forces praised by Marshal Petain in an address delivered under great emotional stress.

Thursday we attended the dedication of the Alsine-Marne Memorial of which I have previously spoken.

Friday morning after breakfast our six days as guests of the French government were ended and no one should have words other than praise for the wonderful time the French people gave to us. Then entertained us, wine and dined us, paid the hotel bill for room and meals, and toured us by rail and bus through their country and over the battlefields for six days at no cost to the Legionnaires.

I left Paris at Friday noon by rail for Calais, crossed the English Channel to Dover and by rail reached London.

Visit to London
 I made one of the whole day motor coach excursions of the city of London visiting the Wallace Collection, Westminster Abbey, the National Gallery, drove through Hyde Park, St. James Park, past Buckingham Palace, the Houses of Parliament, St. Paul's Cathedral, the Tower of London, where the magnificent crown jewels are seen and the British Museum.

Sunday and Monday were free days for me in London. Tuesday I went by rail to Leamington and from there I toured by bus the Shakespeare country, visiting Warwick Castle, Stratford-on-Avon, the birthplace of Shakespeare, Holy Trinity Church where he is buried, thence to Shottery and Ann Hathaway's Cottage, who was the wife of Shakespeare, returning to Leamington by way of Guy's Cliffe and Kenilworth Castle. I stayed overnight in Leamington, a seemingly prosperous city close by the large, industrial city of Birmingham.

The next day I went by rail to Oxford and by motor bus visited many of the 21 colleges that make up Oxford University, especially Magdalen College, Christ Church College and Cathedral, Sheldonian Theatre, Blenheim Park and an exterior view of the famous Blenheim Palace.

That night I returned by rail to London and the next afternoon was on the boat train for embarkation at Southampton sailing for New York on the S. S. Champlain.

Fur Fashions

Mink makes a regal seven-eighths length coat, designed for national fur week, November 8, to 13. Its rich brown pelts fall in straight lines to make the body and are worked horizontally to form the melon sleeves. Notice the black Mephistopheles toque.

All-Around Frock

A dress that can be worn all day and then on to an informal dinner is made of sapphire blue rayon crepe cut in a simple shirt-waist design. Silver tangles and a silver knit belt lend it that much-talked-of touch of glitter. Darker blue felt makes the hat.

TOTS' MARIAN MARTIN SCHOOL FROCK HAS COMFY MATCHING PANTIES

PATTERN 9512

Very young "misses" are as dainty and feminine as their smart mothers these days—and don't we all wish we were "around school age" when we see such an adorable young frock like the fetching model sketched today? The best-dressed youngster in any gathering will be the one who wears Pattern 9512, a style that is distinguished by the smart swing of its skirt, mounted on a cleverly designed yoke. And if you'd like a note of individuality, why not contrast the pointed yoke, and accent it with colorful buttons? Mother will be pleased with the easy making of this practical pantie-frock and want to make her little girl several versions of wool or cotton challis, or figured cotton. Notice sleeve choice. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9512 may be ordered only in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6 requires 2½ yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your ZIP, NAME, ADDRESS, and STREET NUMBER.

See the thrilling gift suggestions, accessories, and more! PRICE of BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PRICE OF PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER TWENTY CENTS.

Send your order to Kingston Daily Freeman, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Bicycles seem to have the right of way, they obey all traffic light signals and one way streets.

Employees at hotel very polite. Guests in hotels are expected to walk down stairs rather than take the elevators, the same as in Paris.

Traffic is on the left, an old Roman custom that has never been changed.

Dogs are unleashed in parks. One can smoke in any seat in the movie theatres. Tea and cake, cigars and cigarettes are sold in the theatres before performances. Those desiring lesser price seats at play houses arrive early and bring small stools to sit on while waiting in line rather than stand. Entertainers go up and down the waiting line singing, playing musical instruments, etc., and have their hands out for donations.

Canes, umbrellas, derby hats and high beaver hats are in abundance every day and all hours of the day.

Cold water faucets are on the left and hot water on the right. Single chair seats are provided in the parks and it costs four cents to sit on them.

Smoking is permitted in the subways. Telephone booths are generously provided along the sidewalks.

Escalators in subways.

TRINITY SUNDAY SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER GROUP

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock the Sunday School teachers of Trinity Lutheran Church, corner of Spring and Hone streets, will have their first Parent-Teacher meeting. The parents of the children are cordially invited to attend. After the meeting there will be a short program. Refreshments will be served.

Y. W. Rooms Get Many Changes

At a result of strenuous effort during the past few days, the Y. W. C. A. building is presenting a new and more attractive appearance and additional space has been taken over in Mechanics' Hall so that the association may carry on its work more efficiently.

Partitions in the front of the main floor have been changed to give more adequate office space, the ground floor of the building has been secured, providing two additional club rooms, game room and dressing room, and the kitchen has been enlarged. Fresh paint and new equipment are being installed and it is hoped that everything may be completed by the end of this week. By the use of these repairs have been carried on with only a slight curtailment of activities, but all groups and clubs will meet regularly, beginning next Monday.

The committee in charge of the improvements includes Mrs. Leonard Flicker, Mrs. Frederic

W. Holcomb, Mrs. Harry B. Walker, Mrs. Q. N. Wood, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Miss M. Jean Kistey and Miss Lillian Herdman.

4,450 Fetus Cases

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP).—The public health service said today that infantile paralysis afflicted 8,450 persons in the United States from January 1 to October 16—a figure exceeded only by the 9,294 cases in 1935 and 13,600 in 1937. During the last four weeks 3,615 cases were reported, more than twice the number in the same period a year ago.

City Thermometer Records Coldest Night of the Fall

Thursday night was the coldest so far experienced this fall with the official city thermometer recording a low of 21 degrees above zero, while other thermometers in various sections of the city recorded as low as 18 and 20 degrees. Ice formed during the night and householders shivered when they arose this morning, and found the thermometer still recording below freezing marks.

Slow Congress Opening Ahead

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Predictions of a slow beginning for the special session of congress came today from Democratic leaders, who nevertheless pledged themselves to expedite the Roosevelt program.

Speaker Bankhead said he believed it inevitable that the House would have to "jockey along a few days at a time" because farm legislation will not be ready when the session starts on Monday. Both Bankhead and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader, said they would try to enact as many as possible of the president's five recommendations before the regular session meets in January.

They mentioned crop control, government reorganization, regional planning, and wage-hour standards. It appeared that the fifth administration proposal—anti-trust law revision—might hold over.

Because none of these subjects is entirely new, President Roosevelt will send his message to congress next week instead of delivering it in person.

Several returning congressmen, grumbling because major bills still were incomplete, said they might well have stayed home a while longer.

It is good for America to be neutral in act; but asking us to be neutral in thought is asking us not to think.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Lester Kiersted gave a surprise miscellaneous shower at her home on Saturday afternoon for Miss Mary Bloom in honor of Miss Bloom's approaching marriage to William Hasbrouck of New Paltz. The bride-to-be received many beautiful and useful gifts which were presented in the form of a treasure hunt. One of the features of the afternoon was a mock wedding. After having spent a delightful afternoon in delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were: Miss Fowler, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. Angus, Mrs. Peter Scott and son, Honar, Mrs. Ethel Scott and son, Marlan Davis, Mrs. Kolnik, Mrs. Celia Scarpall, Mrs. Joseph Hoffman and daughter, Anna May, Mrs. James Holbrook, Miss Florence Osterhout, Mrs. George Weeks, Mrs. Stanley Rosa and son, Roger, Mrs. Lester Kiersted and son, Lester, and the guest of honor, Miss Mary Bloom.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church of Stone Ridge will serve a combination cafeteria supper in the basement of the church on Thursday evening, November 18, at 5:30 o'clock. The menu will consist of combination No. 1 tomato juice cocktail, hot roast pork with dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, apple sauce and bread and butter. Combination No. 2 will include tomato juice cocktail, baked beans with Boston brown bread, potato salad and cottage cheese. A variety of other foods will be on the bill of fare to round out the meal.

Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Bishop entertained at dinner on Saturday Miss Charlotte Becker of Poughkeepsie, Miss Virginia Tweed of Schenectady, Miss Frances Damon of Massachusetts and Miss Lucile Wolf of Lake Placid, all of whom are teachers at Yorktown Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kiersted entertained over the week-end Mrs. Mary Fowler and on Saturday night Oscar Mount of Clintonville was a dinner guest.

Mrs. Rose Kolnik has returned home after spending three weeks with her daughter at Lindhurst.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Hoffman were dinner guests on Wednesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gillesby.

The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick G. Baker attended on Monday the meeting of the Ramapo Valley Preachers' Club at Highland Mills. The Rev. Mr. Edwards of Middletown gave the address of the morning. In the afternoon a discussion led by the Rev. S. A. MacCormac of Highland on the topic, "Relation of English Presiding Elder to the American Church System" was much enjoyed.

A large and attentive audience at the Reformed Church on Sunday evening enjoyed the effective talk given by Dr. Gifford on "How We Are Influenced by Other People."

Polish Minstrel Cruiser

This is the way the cast of the annual minstrel show for Immaculate Conception Church looked when the show was presented Monday and Tuesday evenings to capacity audiences at White Eagle Hall. Director Bill Houghtaling, seated in center as interlocutor, coached the minstrel performers and Malinowski, new pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, spoke of the show as one of the most pleasing amateur theatrical programs he had ever seen, and thanked all who helped make it so.

The Sunday school leadership training school met at the Reformed Church on Monday evening. The regular classes were followed by a social hour of games, after which ice cream and cake was served. The enrollment was 49.

The Rev. Harold Hoffman officiated at the funeral of Alvah Krom at Humilton's funeral parlor on Wednesday. Mr. Krom was a brother of John Krom and a former resident of this place.

The Stone Ridge Grange will hold their next meeting on Monday, November 15, at 8 p. m. at the Grange Hall. A large attendance is urged as important matters are to be discussed. The Thanksgiving season being so near at hand, each member is asked to answer the roll call by telling one thing for which they have been thankful during the past year.

Miss Catherine Cantine was hostess on Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Reformed Church. One of the items of business was plans to pack a box of both new and used articles for the Winnebago Indians. The box will be packed at the parsonage on Tuesday, December 7, when a pot-luck luncheon will be enjoyed before the business session. Anyone having toys or articles of clothing to donate for this worthy cause may leave them at the parsonage during the first week of December.

A checker club is being formed and already 20 have joined. The first meeting will be held Monday, November 15, at 7 p. m. in the room over the library. The meetings will be held once a month and all interested in the game of checkers are invited. A trophy will be given to the winner at the end of the season.

A joint meeting of the constituency of the Catekill Reformed Church and Stone Ridge Reformed Church met at the Stone Ridge parsonage on Tuesday night. The Rev. C. C. Chilton of the Hurley Reformed Church presented the Central College plan. The Rev. Mr. Chilton will occupy the pulpit of the Stone Ridge Reformed Church on January 9, 1938.

Mrs. Edna Mason of Mayfield, who has been a guest at Edgewater Camp, returned home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Nash and daughter, Mrs. Hutchins, closed their home for the winter on Election Day. Mr. and Mrs. Nash are stopping at the Huntington in Kingston and Mrs. Hutchins returned to New York city with her husband.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Van Wageningen on the arrival of a son, Charles John, at the Kingston Hospital. During Mrs. Van Wageningen's stay at the hospital her mother, Mrs. Harriet Winegard, and daughter, Bertha, cared for the household and Mrs. Winegard's grandson, Robert Lewis.

Mrs. Libby Allen is spending some time with friends out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan and daughter, Mrs. Mason, of Mayfield were guests on Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hunt and family. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan are retired school teachers and have a winter home at Bradenham, Fla. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Duncan with Jesse Hunt as chauffeur left for the sunny south.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orstein motored to Albany county last week to vote at Rensselaerville. They visited friends at Middleburg and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Salsbury and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Esbree at Preston Hollow.

Church School at the M. E. Church will convene at 10:30 a. m. with Oscar Wood as leader. At 11:30 o'clock the pastor, the Rev. Frederick Baker, will bring the message of the morning on the topic, "Together."

Sunday evening the Rev. Mr. Baker will preach at the Ellenville M. E. Church as the pastor. The Rev. Mr. Wilkins is convalescing from his recent illness. Mrs. Ellen Merriber of Ravens was a guest on Monday of Mrs. DeForest Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roy of Albany were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hunt and family. They were en route to New Jersey where they will visit Mr. Roy's brother, Dr. Roy. Miss Dorothy Toliver spent Friday night with her mother and sister, Mrs. George Malcomb.

Sunday services at the Reformed Church on Sunday will be as follows: Sunday School at 10 a. m., under the leadership of L. D. Sahler. Divine worship at 11 o'clock, the pastor, the Rev. Harold Hoffman, speaking on the topic, "The Race of Life". Christian Endeavor will meet at 7:30.

Miss Charlotte Becker, Miss Lucile Wolfe, Miss Frances Damon and Miss Virginia Tweed were week-end guests at Edgewater Camp. The four young ladies accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Hunt and Mrs. DeForest Bishop, motored to Olive Bridge and enjoyed the sights of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Nation's News In Brief

an investigation into his disappearance.

R. E. Vetterly of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, declined to discuss a kidnap theory.

5 Children Die

Olivet, Mich., Nov. 12 (AP)—The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wrigglesworth were burned to death today when fire destroyed the small building in which they had been living on the farm of Gordon Raymond, one and a half miles north of here.

Aged Woman Tortured

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—Fingerprints on a whisky bottle were the only clue today to the slayer who tortured and garrotted Mrs. Bertha de Meyer, 67, in her secluded flat where she had concealed cash and securities. The elderly woman who had been on relief for five years and lived alone amid conditions of abject poverty was believed a victim of robbers who had learned of her hoarded money.

Hidden under the cushion of a chair, in an icebox and under a sofa pillow police found $151 in cash, a handbag showing $352 in deposits and securities with a face value of $1,600.

There was evidence that the woman put up a savage fight for her life and savings.

Unification Progresses

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 12 (AP)—Unification of three Methodist denominations having approximately 8,000,000 members in all parts of the world was two-thirds complete today.

Final approval of the Methodist Episcopal Church, south, remained after bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church (north) accepted the merger plans officially here last night.

The Methodist Protestant Church already had voted for unification.

C. I. O. Leader Appointed

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—Mayor S. Davis Wilson announced the appointment today of William M. Leader, Philadelphia C. I. O. head, as assistant director of the city's department of public welfare.

Maid For Murder—"Surprise"

Holland, Mich., Nov. 12 (AP)—William Hitchcock, 65-year-old tradesman, awaited in the city jail here today his arraignment on a charge of killing his wife nearly two years ago.

"I'm awfully surprised," Hitchcock said. "That's all I can say about it."

The Hastings, Mich., carnival concessionaire, arrested last night, is charged with murder by poison of Grace Hitchcock, 54.

The wife, in whose exhumed body authorities claimed to have found poison, died in a hospital here February 23, 1936. Death at the time was attributed to pneumonia.

Hoover At Syracuse

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Republican leaders from upstate New York gathered today for press conferences with former President Herbert Hoover, here to dedicate a new $500,000 Syracuse University School of Citizenship building.

Program and policies for the party during the approaching legislative session and constitutional convention were considered likely subjects for discussion.

Boy! Were They Thrilled

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—A small peach basket was the closest thing to a football the kids could find for a pickup game on a city street. A spectator left after watching the play for a few moments, returned and handed them a brand new ball.

Life vs. Death at Zoo

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—Life and death came simultaneously at the Philadelphia Zoo. A mother lion, with a roar of pride, announced her new arrivals. A giraffe died.

Earle Ordered to Bed

Harrisburg, Nov. 12 (AP)—Governor George H. Earle has been ordered to bed "for a few days" because of an attack of ptomaine poisoning, members of his staff said today. The governor became ill last week.

Better Service for Nome

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 12 (AP)—When winter comes this gold mining town gets much better mail service than it does when all roads of transportation are open.

Spurns Proposal

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Interior Department spurned today a New Yorker's proposal to set up a clearance bureau for the nation's lovelorn.

"Why shouldn't the government conduct one?" asked a letter to the department. "Don't you realize nothing could be more worthy?"

The author's name was withheld.

The officials passed the buck to Capitol Hill.

"You are aware," they answered, "that the department of the interior could not set up such a correspondence bureau, as suggested, without the authority of Congress."

MT. TREMPER.

Mt. Tremper, Nov. 12.—The Ladies' Sewing Society met at the home of Mrs. George Hansen at Mt. Pleasant Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and quite some work was accomplished. Mrs. Hansen served refreshments of cake and coffee. Those who enjoyed the afternoon were: Mrs. George Byron, Mrs. Bert Winne, Mrs. Loren Euley, Mrs. Reginald Every, Mrs. Martha Carmen, Mrs. Frank R. Carle, Mrs. Jack Powers, Mrs. Norman Wilber. All were glad to welcome a new member, Mrs. Edward Hudler and were also glad to have Mrs. Winne's sister as a guest. The ladies will meet next week at the home of Mrs. Frank Carle.

Mrs. Kenneth Warren was a Kingston visitor Tuesday. She visited her brother, Tony, at the hospital. All are glad to hear his condition is showing slight improvement.

A P. T. A. meeting will be held at the Mt. Tremper school Friday evening, November 12.

Mrs. George Byron is entertaining a house full of guests from Endicott over the week-end. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Loren Lane.

Mrs. Frank Carle is entertaining guests from Long Island over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hersh at their new home in Quarryville on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Hasbrouck are entertaining a large party of friends from Endicott over the week-end.

There was quite a fire in the woods near Ideal Park, back of the Reese Smith farm. After a few hours' fighting, it was put out by a number of men and boys from Mt. Tremper.

Ralph Chase was lucky in getting an eight-point deer.

Mrs. Fred Hornbeck has city guests.

Mrs. Jack Powers called on Mr. and Mrs. John Boerker on Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Mallett, Miss Ruth DeVall, Harold Townsend of New York city, and William Duxsey, Jr., of Springfield Gardens, L. I., are spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilber.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. P. Ingersoll have closed their home here for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Koopke were Kingston visitors one day recently.

The high school pupils from Fleischmanns had a vacation Armistice Day, also Friday. The Kingston High School and local pupils only had Thursday off.

Howard Umhey is ill with a cold. His schoolmates hope he will soon be able to return to school.
